ESCORTED BY FIVE WARSHIPS PRESIDENT COMPLETES JOURNEY

New York, July 8.—Escorted by five dreadnoughts and a number of destroyers the transport George Washington, bearing President Wilson home from Europe, passed Ambrose lightship, 16 miles from the battery at 10:30 this morning and steamed up the lower bay amid the booming of battleship salutes.

New York, July 8.—Preceded by the battleship Oklahoma and conveyed by four destroyers, the transport George Washington, bringing President Wilson home from France, was reported eight miles east of Ambrose lightship at 9:45 this morning, according to a message received at the cruiser and transportation headquarters in Hoboken.

The George Washington is steaming toward New York harbor at about 15 knots. The destroyers in her convoy are the Wicks, Yarnell, Wolsey and Tarbell. Navy officials believed the George Washington might reach quarantine shortly before noon but there was some uncertainty as to the time when she will dock. The marine superintendent for the piers of embarkation at Hoboken said it would be hardly possible to warp the big transport into her berth alongside the Leviathan until the last of the ebb tide is reached between 2:30 and 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Vice-President Marshall, Secretary of War Baker, Secretary of the Navy Daniels, other cabinet members and a delegation of congressmen went aboard the battleship, Pennsylvania, off Staten Island at 5:30 this morning. A few minutes later, the Pennsylvania, heading a fleet of four dreadnoughts and 36 destroyers from the Atlantic fleet, steamed slowly out to sea. They were to meet the presidential party about 30 miles off Sandy Hook between 9 and 10 o'clock and boom the first official welcome home.

The president is coming home under perfect weather conditions. The sun shone brightly this morning, the air was cool and a stiff breeze was blowing.

The main welcoming party that boarded the Pennsylvania from the destroyer included Vice-President and Mrs. Marshall, Secretary of the Treasury Glass, Secretary of War Baker, Secretary of the Navy Daniels, and

Mrs. Daniels, Secretary of Labor Wilson and Mrs. Wilson, Under Secretary of State Polk, former Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo and Mrs. McAdoo, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Sayre, son-in-law and daughter of the president and a committee of Democratic congressmen.

As the George Washington passed abreast the dreadnoughts they were to fire a salute of 21 guns in the president's honor. Then they were to swing about and escort the transport to the harbor, the Pennsylvania flying the pennant of Admiral Wilson, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet, leading the way, with the George Washington directly astern, flanked on one side by the dreadnoughts Oklahoma and Utah and on the other by the Delaware and North Dakota.

New York state and New York City reception committees were to meet the George Washington off quarantine.

The guns of Fort Hancock and then later of Forts Hamilton and Wadsworth and Governor's Island boomed greetings to the president as the transport makes its way up the harbor.

The George Washington is scheduled to dock at Hoboken at about 1 p. m., where thousands of school children will greet the president. The streets of Hoboken and the route the presidential party will take up Fifth avenue to Carnegie Hall were decked with flags and bunting.

The president is expected to begin his Carnegie Hall address at about 2:30 p. m. Admission was by ticket only and it was certain the hall would be jammed to its capacity. President Wilson will leave for Washington immediately after the speech.

In addition to the President and Mrs. Wilson, French Ambassador Jusserand and Mme. Jusserand are returning to the United States aboard the George Washington. The transport is bringing over 2,500 soldiers.

GRAND RULER OF ELKS SAYS ALL ELKS MUST SERVE THE LAW

Atlantic City N. J., July 8.—Members of the Order of Elks must not seek to evade the prohibition law, Bruce A. Campbell, retiring grand exalted ruler, declared in his final report to the national convention here today.

"Every Elk is entitled to his views as to the propriety of prohibition laws," he declared, "but as to the question of obedience to them, all Elks can and must have but one opinion and that is that we must in all instances serve the law."

"We must also pledge ourselves as steadfastly opposed to Bolshevism and we must pledge ourselves to aid in driving it from the nation by all lawful means."

Commander Evangeline Bootin of the Salvation Army, the first woman ever invited to speak before the grand lodge, today thanked the Elks for their support of the Salvation Army in the recent campaign.

ROME QUIET AFTER ARREST OF ANARCHISTS

Rome, July 8.—This city is quiet following the arrest of anarchists who were plotting to seize public supplies and establish a reign of terror among the population by use of explosives. The police raided an anarchist meeting and made 10 arrests.

Later on a group of plotters went to Pietra Alata fort, outside of the city and attempted to induce Arditi troops to desert but were fired upon. The soldiers left the fort and arrested many of the anarchist band.

CONGRESS CONVENES AFTER ITS RECESS

Washington, July 8.—Congress reconvened today after a six day recess of both houses. With President Wilson scheduled to address the senate on Thursday when he will present the treaty of Versailles, with the League of Nations covenant incorporated, together with the Franco-American pact, there remained but two days for opponents of the League and of the pact to continue the verbal warfare they have waged for the past two months.

The president's address, which is reported to be a 5,000 word document, was being awaited with keen anticipation by both administration senators, and those who have lined up in opposition. Whether, in view of the almost solid opposition of the Republican ranks to the League of Nations, his speech would be conciliatory in tone, or whether it would couched in sharper language, was being made a question for considerable speculation today.

GERMAN ASSEMBLY WILL VOTE ON PEACE TREATY WEDNESDAY

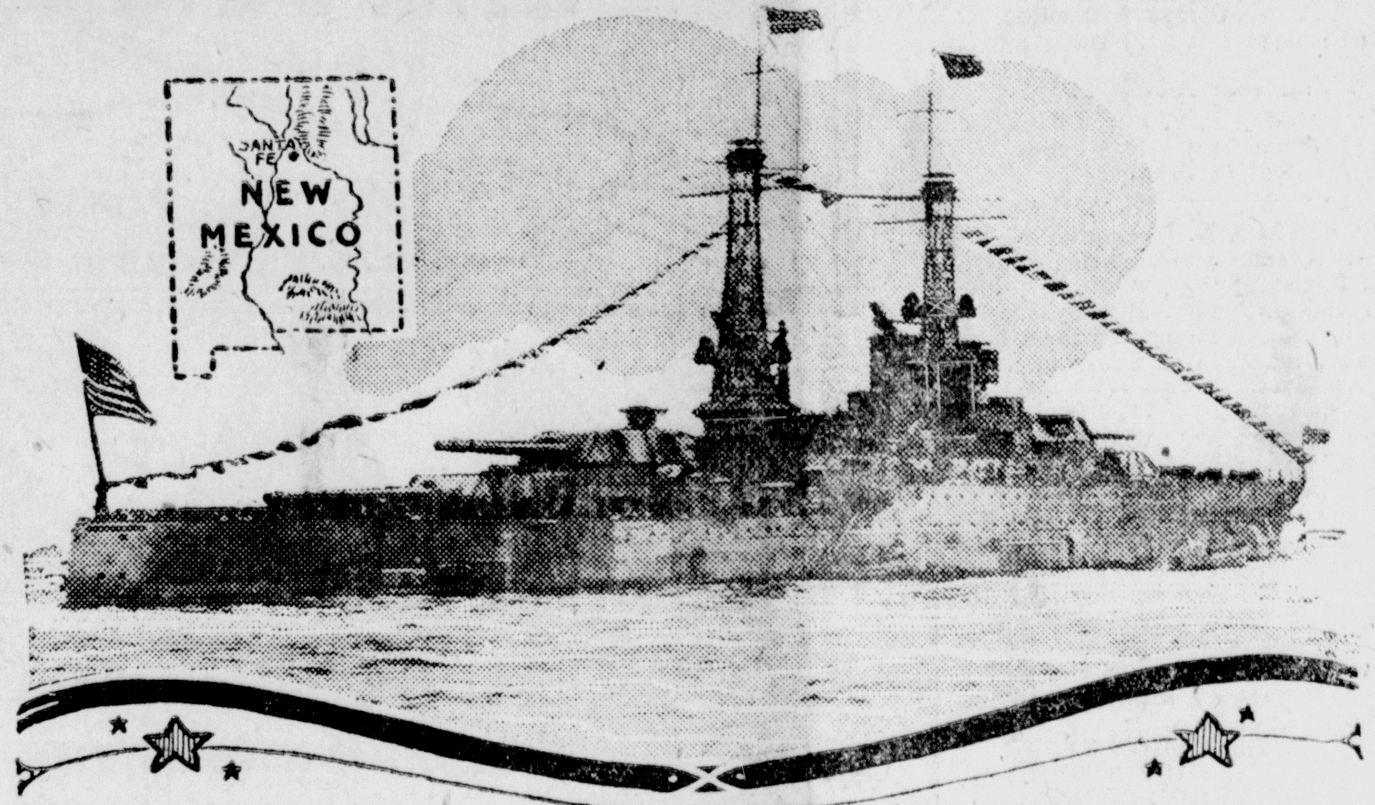

Berlin, July 7, via London July 8.—The German national assembly is scheduled to vote Wednesday upon acceptance or rejection of the peace treaty, the federal committee having approved ratification of the pact today. Dr. Hermann Mueller, the foreign minister, will address the assembly upon Germany's foreign policy when the vote was taken.

Dr. Bauer, the premier, will deliver an important speech on Thursday on domestic questions.

GREEK TROOPS ARE RUSHED INTO TURKEY

Athens July 8.—Greek reinforcements are being rushed to Turkey today following an attempt by Turkish troops to occupy Aidin, 81 miles south-east to Smyrna.

DREADNAUGHT NEW MEXICO CHOSEN FLAGSHIP OF PACIFIC FLEET

TROLLEY STRIKE IN CLEVELAND COMES TO AN END

Cleveland, July 8.—The strike of 2,600 union street car men, which has tied up traction lines here since Sunday morning, ended last night when President John J. Stanley, of the Cleveland Railway company, accepted Mayor Harry L. Davis' proposal to arbitrate the company's demand for an increase in the dividend rate from six to seven per cent.

The men's demands for a 12 cents an hour increase in wages was granted. Car service was resumed this morning.

All of the car men will be reinstated in their former positions, with the possible exception of eight, who were arrested for alleged destruction of company property during Sunday morning's disorders. In the event of conviction in court, union officials agreed they would not insist on the reinstatement of these men.

The emergency clause in the Taylor grant, under which the cars are operated as a result of war conditions, will remain. It permits the company to charge six cents fare and one cent for a transfer. However, the present fare of five cents with one cent transfer will remain effective temporarily.

The increase in rate of pay will be from 43 cents an hour the first three months of service, 46 cents the next nine months and 48 cents thereafter to 55, 58 and 60 cents respectively.

AUSTRIA MAY BE ADMITTED TO THE LEAGUE IN OCTOBER

Paris, July 8.—Austria may be admitted to the League of Nations at the meeting in Washington in October. That was the situation today upon the eve of the presentation of the remaining peace terms to the Austrian delegation. Austria had already made application for admission to the league and was informed that if she showed good faith she would be admitted soon.

NORWAY LAYS CLAIM TO SPITZBERGEN

Paris July 8.—The Norwegian government has laid formal claims before the peace conference for possession of Spitzbergen, it was claimed today.

(Spitzbergen comprises a group of islands in the Arctic ocean. They are not permanently inhabited and have not been claimed by any particular nation. It is understood that they hold rich mineral deposits.)

The Norwegian government has also asked the peace conference to secure for it reparation for ships and sailors lost as a result of Germany's submarine warfare. The matter has been referred to the reparations committee.

CLEVELAND MAN CUTS WIFE'S THROAT

Cleveland, O., July 8.—Police today were seeking the motive that caused Martin Kennedy, 46 to cut the throat of his wife with a razor and then fatally wounded himself with the same instrument. Mrs. Kennedy ran from her home, her throat slashed open, falling dead on the lawn. Kennedy died at a hospital. He also attempted the life of his 14 year old son.

NEEDS A REST.
Milan, July 8.—Philip Scheideemann, former premier of Germany and leader of the Majority Socialists, has arrived at Brissago, Switzerland, on Lake Maggiore for a month's rest.

HINDENBURG BEGS FOR PRIVILEGE TO TAKE KAISER'S PLACE

London, July 8.—In Germany the fate of the former kaiser rapidly is overshadowing all other issues, even the ratification of the peace treaty, in point of national interest and agitation, dispatches from Berlin showed. The two chief events reported by Berlin in the last 24 hours were:

1. Former Field Marshal von Hindenburg, in an open letter to Marshal Foch, begged the allied Generalissimo to use his influence to save the former kaiser from trial, and repeated his offer to take Count Hohenzollern's place as defendant.

2. Colonel Reinhard, chief figure in the new German volunteer army, addressed a similar appeal to General Pershing through Colonel Parker, head of the American Mission at Berlin.

"The war is over," said Field Marshal Von Hindenburg in his letter to Foch. "The German citizens have determined to accept the hard terms imposed on them, and the army officers also are ready to make every sacrifice for the fulfillment of peace as far as their honor remains unimpaired."

"Any soldier failing to interpose himself on behalf of the Supreme War Lord, to whom he has sworn allegiance is devoid of honor."

"The war, despite the harshness necessary in conducting it has shown examples on both sides, to prove that high, moral, soldierly thinking and feeling and a high sense of honor, common to all cultured nations, are not dead."

"As the oldest soldier and adviser of the former kaiser, I consider it to be my duty to address to you, Herr Generalissimo a request to use your influence in prevailing upon the Allied Powers to desist from their demand for the surrender of the former kaiser and thus to save our race and our army from ignominious humiliation. I hereby place myself at the complete disposal of the Allies in the former kaiser's stead. Every member of the old German army is ready to do likewise."

COURT OF APPEALS IS AFFIRMED BY THE SUPREME COURT

The Supreme court in a decision rendered today affirmed the court of appeals, in the case of the Miami Conservancy District against O. P. Pitman and others, holding that a verdict can be rendered by three-fourths of a jury in an appropriation proceedings under the conservancy act. The decision is in favor of the land owners. The jury gave the defendants a verdict for $8,500 which was signed by only ten jurors. The conservancy district appealed the case on the grounds that it was necessary for twelve jurors to sign the verdict.

JESS WILLARD ON WAY BACK TO FARM

Toledo, O., July 8.—Back to the farm. Jess Willard, shorn of his crown, but possessor of something over $100,000 as a consolation prize for the loss of the heavyweight title, is speeding back to Lawrence, Kansas, in a new automobile bought from the training camp proceeds while here. Accompanied by his wife and a couple of friends, the former champion left here late yesterday. Traces of Dempsey's pounding were still apparent.

Gate and attendance figures were promised today by Tex Rickard who said the checking job had proven a bigger one than anticipated.

GIRL SAYS SHE IS GLAD SHE KILLED MAN WHO JILTED HER

Chicago, Ill., July 8.—"Sorry? Sorry after what he did to me? I should say not. He wrecked my life and he has paid for it."

This was the amazing declaration of a seventeen-year-old girl, who was found yesterday standing beside the body of Benjamin E. Burr, well-known Divorce Court attorney, as Burr lay dying on the floor of his private office.

The girl, Miss Margaret Seithamier turned to those who rushed into the office, and throwing a pearl-handled revolver on the body of the dying man, declared:

"Don't be afraid. There's no more bullets. The pity is that more didn't hit him. He deserves to die. He ruined me and wouldn't keep his promise to marry me."

Burr was shot in the throat and back. He was rushed to St. Luke's hospital where he died on an operating table.

Meanwhile Miss Seithamier and her half sister, Miss Marie Larson, 20 years old a divorcee and former friend of Burr, who had accompanied the girl to Burr's office, had been taken to Central station to be questioned by police. She was informed of Burr's death during the course of her narrative.

The girl told her tale in a sprightly fashion pausing from time to time to pat her hair into place under a modish little sailor hat and to smooth her blue dress over her knees. Burr's version of the affair never will be known as he died before he could make a statement. The only words he uttered after the shooting were:

"Please, honey, don't shoot again."

In response the girl pulled the trigger again and again.

LANSING TO START HOME NEXT FRIDAY

Paris, July 8.—Secretary of State Lansing, member of the American peace delegation, is planning to sail for the United States on Friday, it was stated today. Owing to the delay of the German delegates arriving here the first meeting regarding reparations will not be held until Thursday.

WORLD SHORTAGE OF HIDES SAY OFFICIALS

Chicago, July 8.—There is a world shortage of hides and for this reason chiefly, shoes are to be from $3 to $4 per pair higher, according to officials of the National Shoe Dealers exposition, which is in session here. All foreign countries, it was declared, must come to America for shoes and this has created a demand that is another factor in the high cost of footwear.

BIG THREE DECIDE TO HOLD THE EX-KAISER'S TRIAL IN LONDON

Parks, July 8.—The decision of Premier Lloyd George, Premier Clemenceau and President Wilson to try the ex-kaiser for his war crimes in London were described in official circles today as a "gentlemen's agreement." Secretary of State Lansing, after a conference with his associates, is satisfied the big three were in accord upon this matter.

In some quarters the question is being asked: Did not Premier Lloyd George "put one over" on his colleagues in being first to announce publicly that the former emperor would be arraigned in London? In this same connection it was suggested that President Wilson and Premier Clemenceau were so absorbed with other matters that they left the details of the ex-kaiser's trial to the British Prime Minister.

The admission in official circles that the big three at one of their final meetings agreed to try the former kaiser in London seems to dispose of all doubts about Premier Lloyd George being bluffing. The German delegates are not completely enlightened yet, but they frankly admit that the decision regarding the date of the former war lord did not necessarily have to be communicated to them. It is explained that the president had so many things on his mind before his departure for home that it is very probable he forgot about the trial of the former German emperor, or it may be he did not attach as much importance to it as Premier Lloyd George did.

The manner in which the question was said to have been raised by Lloyd George at a meeting of the big three is causing amusement.

"It was characteristic of Lloyd George," is the comment heard on all sides.

The version that is commonly accepted is that Premier Lloyd George simply said to his colleagues:

"Well, I suppose you gentlemen have no objection if the ex-kaiser is tried in London?"

Thereupon Premier Clemenceau shrugged his shoulders as if it didn't matter to him, and President Wilson assumed a similar attitude of indifference. The big three then turned their attention to other business.

The decisions of the big three were customarily passed on in written minutes to the secretariat of the conference but in this case there was no such proceeding so far as can be learned.

It is generally understood that Premier Clemenceau and President Wilson both objected to the former kaiser being tried in Paris.

Then the suggestion was made that he be tried in Washington and President Wilson again objected. The suggestion of Lloyd George that he be arraigned in London afforded the solution.

BIG DIRIGIBLE TO START RETURN TRIP WEDNESDAY

Mineloa, L. I., July 8.—The British dirigible R-34 will hoist anchor and start on the 3,000 mile trip back to her base in Scotland between 11 o'clock tonight and 5 o'clock tomorrow morning, barring unexpected changes in the weather.

This announcement was made this morning by Major Pritchard, in charge of the dirigible overnight, following an announcement a few hours earlier that the transatlantic airship could not be made ready for the start this morning.

"We could not complete the work of overhauling the engines in time to get ready this morning," said Major Pritchard. "There were quite a number of minor troubles with the engine when we arrived. These repairs will be completed before night. We will push off before 5 o'clock tomorrow morning unless the weather reports are extremely bad."

Before the R-34 makes her getaway, the weather reports will be scanned carefully. If the weather appears favorable at the start, Major Scott, the commander, probably will take the southern course, 400 miles north of the Azores, but if strong winds are blowing in an unfavorable direction she will return over the same route by which she came. She will carry 1,000 gallons less gasoline on the return trip than on the voyage to America, counting upon westerly winds to push her along.

British and American aviation officials guarding the R-34 received two distinct scares today when the rear of the great airship twice settled to the ground. Once the rear gondola bumped the earth and it was feared for a moment that the stern of the big airship was about to be seriously damaged. Several men were ordered aboard to release water ballast at the stern. After they had been at work a few minutes the stern rose to a correct position and the danger was over.

After sun rise the big dirigible was brought down and securely lashed to earth to avoid yesterday's accident in which her envelope was torn open.

ELECTORS TO ELECT GERMANY'S PRESIDENT

Weimar, July 8.—The German National Assembly still is debating the new constitution and has endorsed the article qualifying any male citizen, naturalized or native, who has attained the age of 35 for the office of President.

The naturalization provision was included owing to realignment of the German frontiers, depriving many former German subjects of their nationality. The constitution provides that the President shall be chosen by popular vote.

DICTATOR WANTS MONITORS RETURNED

Vienna, July 7.—via London, July 8.—Bela Kun, Red dictator of Hungary, today demanded that Serbia return the monitors which the counter revolutionists took into Serbian waters when the counter uprising at Budapest failed. The monitors had been lying among a group of islands in the Danube south of Budapest when the uprising collapsed.

FRENCH WINE INTERESTS ARE MAKING A KICK

Paris, July 8.—The French wine interests have begun to bring pressure to bear upon the government to make some representation to Washington regarding the tremendous blow dealt French wine trade by prohibition in the United States says the Petit Journal.

Narcisse Cusevier, president of the wine and liquor federation, representing 177 syndicates, said today:

"One of our best markets is now closed to French wines, spirits and cordials. We lose a trade worth annually $20,000,000, including $8,000,000 worth of champagne. French wine growers, dealers, barrel and bottle makers will suffer under American prohibition. It is a disastrous blow against the revival of trade in France where 67 departments grow wine."

"We hope the government will draw Washington's attention to this result after prohibition in the United States. We know we cannot interfere with America's domestic questions but the consequences of this measure are so grave to France that we can not remain silent. If America only knew that our race, whose dash, endurance and patience were exemplified during the war, owes many of its qualities to the wines and brandies of France!"

BURLESON WILL NOT SAY WHETHER HE WILL RESIGN OR NOT

Washington, July 8.—"There is absolutely no truth in the statement which has been spread broadcast over the country today that I have resigned as postmaster general. You may deny it flatly and I will be obliged to you." The postmaster general made this statement shortly before noon over the telephone to an International News Service representative.

Washington, July 8.—Postmaster General Burleson refused today either to confirm or deny a report that his resignation would be placed in the hands of President Wilson when the latter arrives in Washington tonight. The postmaster general denied himself to press representatives, sending out word that he would not discuss the matter. His refusal to deny the report led up to the general belief in official circles here that his resignation had been prepared and was awaiting the president.

Burleson has been under incessant fire ever since the wire communication systems of the country were taken over by the government as a war measure and their administration placed in the hands of the postoffice department. Charges that he had "wrecked" these systems were made on many occasions from the floor of both houses of congress.

TUMULTY KNOWS NOTHING OF REPORT

New York, July 8.—Reports that Postmaster General Burleson had resigned were brought to the attention of Secretary to the President, Jos. Tumulty today and elicited the following statement:

"I know nothing of it and I don't think there is any truth in it."

XENIA PAPERS TO ENLARGE PLANT

At a recent meeting of the board of directors of The Chew Publishing Co., it was decided to purchase a new three deck, Straightline Hoe press, upon which the Gazette and Republican will be printed.

This press is of the type used by all city papers, and has a capacity to print a paper three times as large, and eight times as fast, as the press now in use by this company.

Forms used on this press must be stereotyped and in addition to the press the company will install a complete stereotyping foundry consisting of eight additional pieces of machinery.

The new equipment will be installed in the basement of the Gazette building on South Detroit street within the next few months, and will give the company facilities for publishing its newspapers that are rarely equalled in the plants of the ordinary small city daily.

The growth of these newspapers, has, however, necessitated the procuring by the publishers, of faster and more improved methods of issuing their publications, and nothing is to be gained in making them the equal of papers published in towns many times the size of Xenia.

GOES

Joseph Rhinesperger, of Chicago, formerly of Goes, has returned to Chicago after spending four days with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rhinesperger, of Goes.

During their son's stay, Mr. and Mrs. Rhinesperger were surprised by a number of their children, the occasion being Mr. Rhinesperger's 65th birthday. Those present were Joseph Rhinesperger, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Clark Rethem of Xenia Charles Rhinesperger of Dayton, Frank Rhinesperger, Jr. and Mrs. Fred Rhinesperger and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rhinesperger. They were also honor guests at a supper given by Mr. and Mrs. Clark Rethem at their home in Xenia Saturday evening.

A lovely picnic supper on the beautiful lawn at the parsonage on West Market street, was enjoyed by thirty members of the Second Auxiliary of the Women's Home Missionary Society of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, Monday evening. After supper a short business meeting was held and the rest of the evening was spent playing croquet and other games on the lawn.

Forest L. Shoup, well known Beaver creek township young man and nephew of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Harshman of North King street, arrived in New York on the steamer Leviathan Saturday night, and is at Camp Mills. A telegram announcing his arrival was received by his cousin, Miss Myrtle Harshman. He was overseas 14 months, and was a member of the Second Pioneer Infantry.

Mrs. Susan Crabb is leaving Tuesday night for Cedar Falls, Iowa, where she will visit Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wallace, nephew and niece. She expects to be gone about a month.

Unity Court No. 12 O. O. C. will please meet this evening at 7:30 o'clock. Hattie Hawkins, W. C. Ida B. Shields, R. of D.

REV. MELVIN E. BECK
RESIGNS PASTORATE

The Rev. Melvin E. Beck has resigned the pastorate of the First Reformed church, this city, and accepted a call to Grace Reformed church, Jackson Boulevard and Washington avenue, Chicago.

Rev. Mr. Beck presented his resignation to the consistory of the church, and announced it to his congregation Sunday morning. The resignation takes effect August 18, and on September 1, Mr. Beck takes up his pastoral duties for the Chicago congregation.

Rev. Beck has been pastor of the local Reformed church only a year and a half, and his resignation came as a complete surprise to his congregation. He was located in Columbus before coming to Xenia, and succeeded the Rev. W. D. Loucks as pastor here. He has been a popular pastor, and his congregation regrets to part with him, as well as with his charming young wife and lovely little daughter, Catherine.

The End.

We cannot see the end from the beginning, but as long as we can see the beginning, whether it be the year we are entering, or some duty that is required of us, we see enough—one step at a time—and we know that we shall be so guided on to the end. If we sit down and wait for the whole plan to unfold before our view, we shall wait endlessly.

JESS WILLARD
GETS CREDIT FOR
BEING GAME GUY

New York, July 8.—Jess Willard will go down in history as the only heavyweight champion who quit in a battle.

He did quit, of course, but he quit only when he could go no further. No champion ever took a pasting such as he took. But Nelson had just such a face when he fought Wolgast and fought on until he was stopped by the referee. Carl Morris had just such a face when he fought Jim Flynn here and he went the limit, but he didn't hit that hot canvass seven times in a row and get up.

Jeffries, too, had a very mugged up map in his second fight with Fitzsimmons, but he was never on the floor. You must remember that Willard was knocked down hard every time he took the count. He never once dropped to avoid punishment. He took everything that Dempsey had and then fought two rounds more before he quit.

No one wanted to see any more of that fight. We knew that Dempsey couldn't loose after the third round. Willard was blind, weak and gone then. To continue the thing would have been nonsense. Willard might have been killed any moment. As it was, any number of people yelled to the referee to stop it in the second round.

Willard quit when nature quit him. He held out just as long as he could and then caved in. A man who took the licking that he did in that first round and then came out for more in the second is not a quitter.

You can't tell Sergeant Walter Monahan that Jess Willard is yellow. A fresh cake eater, coming in on a train from Toledo yesterday tried to tell this and got an awful raz.

"Say you bimbo," piped Monahan, sticking a big thick fist under the cake eater's snout. "If you had one tenth of the nerve Willard has, you might almost be a man."

Monahan was not downcast over the defeat of Willard, although it is a terrible shock to him. "Poor fellow," said Monahan, "he was licked with that first punch, but did you notice how he kept on? It was too bad that he got such a black eye. He might have given Dempsey a swell time only for that. Gee, he was dead after that."

"When I picked him off the floor at the end of the first round he said to me 'what's the matter? What? What's this?' Gee, we gave him the ice water and the smelling salts, but he wasn't right even when he went out for the second round. When he got back from the third round he was worse than ever."

"He asked me, 'what's up? Is the fight still on? What kind of a fight is it?' He was gone. We all knew it. We held a consultation and decided to throw up the sponge. Willard didn't tell me to throw it up."

"Next morning after the fight Mrs. Willard was upstairs while we were having breakfast. Jess was at the table ripping into steak and potatoes. He leaned over to me and laughingly said: 'Gee, I'll bet that my wife thinks I am a rotten fighter. Well, I know how it feels to lose now. I sent many a poor fellow home with a black eye and finally I drew a prize one myself.'"

ONE OF FAYETTE COUNTY'S
MOST HONORED CITIZENS

Fayette county is proud to call her own, Mr. Franklin Jacobs, of Parrett's Station, who is now in his 96th year, and has the honor of being one of the only three Mexican war veterans living in Ohio today.

Mr. Jacobs also saw three years of active service in the Civil War and participated in some of the hardest battles of that great conflict. It is a remarkable fact that Mr. Jacobs at his advanced age is in splendid health and is keenly alive to current events, spending much of his time reading the newspapers.

Enlisting for service for the Mexican war in 1847, Mr. Jacobs fought in last four decisive battles at Conteras, Churubusco, Molino del Ray and Chapultepec, receiving his discharge from Fort Monroe, Va., in 1848. He received a certificate of merit recorded at the Adjutant General's office, May 10, 1848. Mr. Jacobs enlisted in the Civil War September 6, 1861, and fought in the battles of Louisville, Va., Elk River, Va., Strawberry Plains, Tenn., and Knoxville. At Cumberland Gap he assisted with the capture of 2,000 prisoners. He was honorably discharged from the army in 1864.

The record this fine old gentleman has to his credit is a remarkable one and he enjoys the peace and contentment of ripe old age among loved ones, neighbors and friends of his home community.

CLYDE J. KUSSMAUL
HAS ARRIVED HOME

Clyde J. Kussmaul, popular Xenia soldier, received his discharge at Camp Sherman, Saturday night, and arrived in this city early Sunday morning. Guy McCoy motoring to camp and bringing Mr. Kussmaul and Bernard Hollencamp, who also was discharged Saturday, back home with him.

Mr. Kussmaul, who was a fireman on the Pennsylvania Railroad, was among the first Xenia soldiers in Camp Sherman. He was one of a bunch of men who volunteered for overseas service as motor truck drivers, and he spent about 20 months in France.

Stone Don't Grow.

Natural agencies operate to form beds of rock such as limestone, etc., just the same as beds of rock now in existence were formed at earlier periods in the earth's history. But the rocks and boulders scattered about the surface of the earth do not grow; notwithstanding the popular belief to the contrary. Instead, they actually diminish in size, owing to the action of frost, wind and other disintegrating agencies.

Stockingless style in Paris.

Here is shown one of the chic beauties of Paris posing prettily while the June breeze displays more of her stockingless limb than perhaps she cares to have exposed. The fashion of stockingless limbs, introduced at the opening of the racing season in Paris, became quite popular with the ultra fashionable. After a tentative flaunting of the hoseless legs many of the fashionable women decided against it on the ground that their calves became sunburned and dusty. The style is still in vogue at the famous society beaches of Deauville and Dinard and other watering places such as Vichy, Luxon and Contrexeville.

THE BAD BOYS OF THE SEN-ATE WHO WON'T PLAY.

The League of Nations is not absolutely perfect; what instrument could be, with fourteen nations taking part in it, with their different desires, their varying interests, their radical differences, and all of them demanding reparation for injury received at the hands of the conquered foe? But it will fulfill its purpose; it will prevent war.

However, it does not suit Senators Lodge, Knox and many others in the upper house of Congress. They want the League and the treaty built according to their specifications. Have not the opposing Senators sufficient perspicacity to realize the momentous and far-reaching effects of the work that has been done at Versailles?

The war is over, but the waves of the devastating flood have not yet receded. The embers of the great conflagration are still smoldering, and but little would be required to fan them into a fierce flame. All Europe is in a ferment. Bolshevism menaces the old world. Anarchy is gathering its forces and threatens to sweep like a destroying angel over the eastern hemisphere. Starvation, murder, rapine and destruction are doing their malign work, the aftermath of the sanguinary harvest produced by the world war.

The outlook is not bright, but there is a remedy, and one only. The dawn which is the harbinger of the day appears on the horizon; it is the league of nations, and all that stands between that and the hope of permanent world peace is the United States Senate. May the members of that body lay aside their prejudices and jealousies and unite in a patriotic effort to bring to complete fruition the great work accomplished at Versailles.

OUR "WET" PRESIDENT.

President Wilson seems to be somewhat annoyed at the prohibition situation. Almost petulantly he concluded a cablegram on war prohibition, "When demobilization is terminated, my power to act without congressional action will be exercised." There is no doubt about his legal right to restore the groggshops when all the boys will be home again to be ensnared. His outspoken purpose saves the country any further guessing and suspense. But that one sentence reveals that the criticism of Christian people, notably by his own fellow Presbyterians has fallen on barren soil. Many reformers have been busy of late looking up the President's record on this issue and have reached the conclusion that he has been consistently as "wet" as he dared to be. He delayed the passage of any liquor restrictive measures as long as possible, and when Congress became more desperate he agreed to war prohibition, but he used his influence to set forward the date to the longest limit. Now that the country knows where he stands on this question, we will be able to anticipate what to expect. It may be necessary for Congress to pass still another national prohibition bill to fill out the time to January 16, 1920, if the President carries out his threat when demobilization is completed.—Western Christian Advocate.

EVEN THE ZOO FEELS THE HARD TIMES.

Not alone in the sacred confines of the home is the upward flight of food prices a thing of moment and grave concern. The care-free beasts in the zoo have felt it as well.

It used to be that life in the zoo was one grand sweet breakfast, but not now—alas, not now! No longer does Mr. Lion inquire politely of Mrs. Lion whether she will have a bit of the sirloin or prefer all porterhouse. He walks around the chunk of horse meat which the keeper sticks into the cage, sniffs a little, turns up his nose, shrugs his shoulders and says: "My dear girl, I trust you can eat this stuff. I've heard father and mother tell about killing these creatures themselves, back in their pioneer days in the jungle, and finding them quite palatable and all that. But believe me, I never expected to have to ask my wife to eat anything like it."

Man should stop and think ere he raises prices and taxes incomes, how far reaching are the effects of his acts. Many a poor kitty is now living on skim milk who was born to the cream pitcher, and the lone wolf in the zoo shares the troubles and the horse meat of the king of beasts.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS
BY JANE PHELPS.A THRILL WITH THOUGHTS OF WHAT THE FUTURE HELD."

CHAPTER VII.

Everett was very rich—so father said. He had large business interests, which required a great deal of attention. He also said that I was a very lucky girl to marry a man who could care so well for me should anything happen to him I thought so, too. And while I had none of that feeling of intense love, I had read about, for my intended husband, I was wildly excited—thrill with thoughts of what the future held for me.

Everett wrote often, and constantly sent me presents. Lovely things, a ring, a pair of bracelets, and a dull gold locket set in diamonds with a picture of himself inside. All appropriate presents for a young girl. When I showed the locket to Rose, she said:

"He doesn't love himself, does he? Putting himself in a diamond frame." I didn't let it make me angry. I felt sure Rose was jealous. "Why don't you send him one of yours for his watch case? I'll bet he's got the first in there yet."

When Rose said that I did get angry, and cried. She was awfully sorry, but that didn't make me stop thinking she might be right. And such thoughts made me awfully unhappy. Sometimes made me almost wish I wasn't to marry Everett until I too had been married before. Yet I hardly understood how I could accomplish that. But if I had also loved someone first it would have seemed more fair.

I did have my picture taken and sent it to Everett. I told him I thought he might like to put it in his watch. He thanked me very nicely, but said it did not do me justice, and that he would have one taken by a good photographer after we were married.

I was awfully chagrined, and so glad I had not told Rose I had had it taken. It was the first thing I ever had given him, and he had not been pleased with it. Perhaps it wasn't very good. I imagine our country photographer was not a finished artist, but I couldn't help wishing he had said he was pleased with it.

But I hadn't much time for worry over anything. It was all hurry and bustle until October. The time fairly flew. Rose came over every day and helped mother and me sew. I don't know what I would have done without her, but all the time I had it in my mind to make it up to her after I was married.

Mother hadn't acted real happy over my marrying Everett any of the time. I often caught her looking at me sadly, once or twice with tears in her eyes. Then often her eyes were red in the morning. I was sure she had been crying, although she denied it. But mother never objected to anything father thought the best thing to do for us, so she said very little. I learned long afterward that she was afraid because of heart trouble.

"I hope you will be a very happy wife, dear," she said one day when we were alone. "You will have to constantly remember that Mr. Graham is much older than you are, that his views of life are formed, that he has had experience. He may be unused to young girls, and at times make things rather difficult for you. But love can smooth away all difficulties."

Mother sighed a little when she finished. She would have been even more disturbed had she known just how difficult things were to be for me; just how hard my being young and inexperienced was to make my life.

"Of course, we will be happy," I answered her gayly, reassuring myself and her at the same time. "Everett must love me very dearly, even if he isn't very demonstrative. He didn't have to ask me to marry him mother, you know. He did it because he wanted me."

"I trust it is for the best," was all the answer mother made, but that night I heard her talking to father long after they had gone to bed, and when they supposed I was asleep. I couldn't hear what they said, but I was sure they were talking of me—my future.

I smiled confidently as I lay wide-eyed in the dark. Dear mother was so foolish to worry about me. Of course, I was going to be happy. Yet I couldn't help a wish that Everett would make a little more fuss over me.

Love for Everett.

WIND AND RAIN
STORM OCCURS
NEAR JAMESTOWN

A wind and rain storm that took on the nature of a tornado swept a half mile wide swath through the country between Jamestown and Cedarville Saturday afternoon doing damage to wheat and to trees.

The wind storm was accompanied with heavy rain. At one point shocked wheat was blown down for a distance of a half mile and in a swathe about a half mile wide. At the John Spahr residence, a grove of maple shade trees in front of the house were torn and splintered by the twisters.

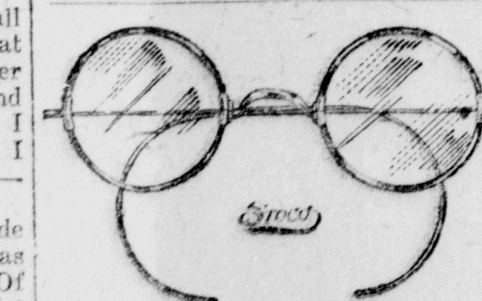

No damage to buildings was reported although the Citizen's Telephone Company had trouble along the lines at that point and there was no communication for a time. Repairs from the Cedarville and Jamestown offices repaired the wires and reestablished the connection Monday morning.

The storm was one of the worst that has visited this section for some time, and might have been considerably worse considering the nature of the twister.

Splendid Way To Reduce Your Weight

There is perhaps no one thing that so plainly shows the passing of our youth as the horrible tendency to put on too much weight after we have reached the age of 25 or 30 years. However young our faces may appear, the sagging, flabby figure, and forty inch waist "gives us away."

The cause of this over stoutness is that our stomachs convert the food we eat into fat because there is not enough oxygen in the blood to produce a proper combustion to destroy the excess fatty tissue. Fat people will be pleased to learn of a simple home method that is wonderfully efficient in reducing weight, quickly and easily without a starving diet, violent massage or strenuous exercise. Go to any drug store and get a box of Phynola; take five grains after each meal and at bed time. This treatment will often give quick relief from overburdening fat. Phynola taken at meal time assists the stomach in giving you the benefit of the food you eat; at the same time dissolves the fatty tissue from any part of the body where there is excessive fat. This method many have reduced their weight a pound a day and there is no flabbiness left. Sayre & Hemphill can supply you with the genuine Phynola at a small cost.

Mad as a Hatter.
Mad, in Anglo-Saxon, is frequently used as a synonym for violent, furious, angry or venomous. Atter, in old English, means adder or viper. Hence the combination of the two words "mad" and the corrupted "hatter" merely means "as venomous as an adder." And the proverbial saying has, therefore, no reference to hatmaking at all.

Mixed Summer Foods The Cause Of Much Indigestion

SUMMER days are days of careless living, kitchens too hot for cooking, cold lunches at the homes of friends, open-air picnics, with the result that many a family is down with indigestion.

Give the stomach and bowels a new start by taking a dose of a good laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Then put variety into your diet by eating more warm food. It is more easily digested.

A bottle of Syrup Pepsin can be bought at any drug store for 50c and $1, the latter the family size. It acts so gently and safely that it can be given even to a baby in constipation, indigestion, "summer colds" and similar ills.

The formula on which Syrup Pepsin is based was written by Dr. Caldwell over 30 years ago. It is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that trains the stomach-muscles to do their work naturally so that medicines can again be dispensed with. Over 6 million bottles of Syrup Pepsin are sold by druggists every year. That is recommendation in itself.

If you have never used Syrup Pepsin, send your address for a free trial bottle to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 480 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

ENGAGEMENT OF POPULAR COUPLE IS ANNOUNCED

Entertaining a group of girl friends, members of the S. O. S. club and a few others at her home on West Third street, Monday evening, Miss Katharine Landaker announced to them the date for the coming marriage of Miss Anne Weaver, to Schuyler N. McClellan, which will take place next Monday, July 14.

The interesting secret was told to the guest in a unique manner. A bit of original verse was given to each, with the instruction that the question in each line was to be answered with in letter or figure when all were finished the completed answers read backward making the announcement. So quiet had plans for the marriage been made that the announcement was a complete surprise to the guests. Miss Landaker used hollyhocks in the hallway and living room, carrying out a pink and white color arrangement. Ices moulded into figures, heart shaped cakes, mints and punch were served. There were fifteen guests. Mrs. Robert Dean, a recent bride, who is visiting here, was the only out of town guest.

The coming marriage of Miss Weaver to Mr. McClellan is a matter of much interest, both having a large number of friends and wide family connection throughout the county. Miss Weaver is the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Volcha Weaver, of South Detroit street, and received her education in Xenia schools and at Mary Baldwin Seminary, Staunton, W. Va.

Mr. McClellan who is the second son of Dr. and Mrs. Ben R. McClellan, recently received his discharge from the army, after serving in the medical corps at the base hospital at Fox Hill, I. I. He graduated from Staunton Military Academy, Staunton, W. Va., and also from Eastman Business College. Since leaving school he has taken up X-Ray work and is specializing in that line, now having charge of the X-Ray department at the McClellan Hospital.

Because of the ill-health of Miss Weaver's mother, the wedding will be very simple.

CENTENARY CELEBRATION COLUMBUS

(OHIO)

Remember this great Centenary Celebration closes its gates on SUNDAY, JULY 13th.

Described by William C. Freeman, Associated with Paul Block, Inc., New York, Chicago, Detroit, Boston.

The Centenary Celebration Columbus, is open on Sundays—except there is no charge for admission and none of the buildings in which the special exhibits are stored are open to the public.

Yet Sunday is a wonderful day to visit the Exposition.

I spent Sunday afternoon, June 29, in the Coliseum, State Fair Grounds, which seats, as you know, 7,500 people—and it was one of the richest experiences of my life.

I am old enough to go back to the days when, as a young lad, I heard Dwight L. Moody, the evangelist, and Ira Sankey, the sweet singer, hold forth in Madison Square Garden, New York.

I remember very well the great crowds that attended these meetings and I was tremendously impressed with the great chorus of voices that joined Mr. Sankey in singing.

To my young mind everything thing seemed to be very wonderful. An impression was left on my mind that has never been erased from memory.

But the meeting in the Coliseum at Columbus, under the auspices of the Centenary Celebration, gave me two hours of the greatest inspiration I ever experienced in my whole life.

The playing of that wonderful orchestra—the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra of 75 pieces—thrilled everybody. Accompanied as it was, by the music from the great pipe organ installed by the Centenary management for this occasion, at a cost of $50,000—also accompanied by the singing of the great choir of 1,000 voices—the occasion was most inspiring and stirring.

I heard two wonderful talks by two remarkable men—one of them delivered by Rev. John A. Rice, D. D., Sumpter, S. Carolina and the other by Rev. Lynn Harold Hough, D. D., President of the Northwestern University. The address of Dr. Hough was the most remarkable and most intellectual interpretation of the Bible I ever heard.

Sunday, June 29, had been set apart as Bible day.

There was a big crowd in attendance at the morning service—a larger crowd at the afternoon service and still a larger crowd at the evening service.

But there were services of an impressive nature held in all parts of the State Fair Grounds where the Centenary Exposition is held—and they had a wonderful effect on the great crowds that could not be accommodated with seats in the Coliseum.

I never heard such sympathetic, powerful and wonderful singing as I heard on this occasion.

I was brought up a Presbyterian, and in my young days I recall that there was not the best of feeling existing between the people of the Presbyterian and Methodist faiths. But what a change has taken place in recent years! What unity exists now among peoples of all faiths! Why not? Why should people quarrel about the routes they take to heaven? Aren't they traveling the same way. Haven't they the same purpose in view?

At any rate I found my Presbyterian faith in harmony on this occasion with the Methodist faith—and I said to myself every Presbyterian, every Methodist, every Congregationalist, every Lutheran and everybody of every other faith should attend this Centenary Celebration.

Don't fail to attend the Centenary services next Sunday.

Don't fail to attend this remarkably interesting exposition on any of the seven days of the week, for it is very much worth while.

People living in the City of Columbus—250,000 of them I understand—have a greater advantage than you who live many miles away from Columbus.

The home town people of Columbus—EVERYONE OF THEM—should attend this Centenary Celebration not once but many times, because never before in their lives have they had brought to their doors anything so inspiring or instructive or entertaining.

THEATERS

"Revelation" a seven-act Metro Special production de Luxe, featuring the wonderful Nazimova, will be shown at the Bijou Theater Wednesday, marking the return of Metro pictures to the program of this popular theater.

No one but Nazimova could depict the wonderful story that is told in this splendid Metro production. It deals with the tradition existing around an old monastery of the "sacred rose-bush" and the "Madonna of the Rose-Bush." The romance is wonderfully sweet and refreshing and the plot delightful in its originality. Charles Bryant plays opposite Nazimova and Frank Currier, Syn De Conde, and John Martin also have good parts in the production.

ORPHIUM

It is quite a complicated romance that Taylor Holmes is called upon to unwind in the latest Triangle presentation "A Regular Fellow" which appears at the Orphium Theater Wednesday.

Holmes has an excellent part to portray and the plot is to his liking. He jumps from riches to poverty and from beautiful surroundings to jail so quickly that there is never a lagging moment. He is supported by Millie Fisher, Edna Phillips Holmes, Frank Leigh, Alleen Manning and others.

NEW WHEAT IS BEING RECEIVED AT LOCAL MARKET

New wheat being received at Xenia elevators is not up to standard. The quality is poor, and the quantity has fallen about 10 bushels to the acre below the average yield expected. About 20 bushels to the acre is the average yield.

Late storms which broke down the wheat when it was nearing maturity had something to do with the poor quality and quantity. In comparison with the grain yield there is an excess quantity of straw, this being enough in most cases, for a yield of 40 bushels to the acre.

The government is endeavoring to encourage farmers to hold their wheat until later, and local elevator men are also trying to impress this upon them. The government price of $2.26 for No. 1 wheat is guaranteed until May 31, 1920, and there is no necessity for rushing the grain to the mill now in the fear that the price will not continue. The elevator man pays $2.26 f. o. b., Chicago, less freight and brokerage for No. 1 wheat. The price for No. 2 wheat is three cents less, and for No. 3 wheat four cents less.

Cars are scarce, and the elevators will find it impossible to ship large quantities of grain, hence the necessity for the wheat being held.

PORT WILLIAM

The most of our people spent the Fourth at Jamestown and Blanchester. They report a splendid time.

Mayor Sanderson has moved into the H. R. Stephens property on Sycamore street.

Supt. C. O. Temple is attending school at Wilmington College. He reports a splendid school this summer, with an increased attendance.

J. A. Conklin has newly painted his buildings on Main street.

Our groceries report large sales in June and the prospects fine for the summer trade.

James Thomas is adding a small grocery line to his meat store.

Our threshers are all busy at work pushing the large crop of wheat through for our farmers. There are several machines near Port William, and the threshing season will be short.

J. C. Ellis, agent for the Houston Creamery Co., also the post master, is getting a nice trade with the creamery.

Golder Borton, having a little extra time at Beam's mill, is prepared to mend shoes and is well equipped with a new Singer machine, also a fine pegging machine.

Raymond Plummer is helping the threshers.

J. A. Stephens and Roy G. Bernard are selling a great many Oldsmobiles this season, and they have several other people who wish them but the factory can not furnish them for a short time.

F. L. Earley and Sons have just opened one of the most up-to-date restaurants that can be found anywhere. They have secured a fine soda fountain and are prepared to serve most any kind of eats, as well as soft drinks. The people of the little village and community are to be congratulated upon having people take interest enough to serve them in this way.

We are glad to note that our section hands are putting things in good shape on the D. T. and I. Several more hands are needed, so Foreman Claybaugh informs us.

The Dayton Power and Light Co. is using a number of our laborers, and they speak very highly of their work.

Steven Powers of Xenia has been out looking after his splendid wheat crop.

We are informed that Prof. M. J. Ellis will move into his house

IF IN DOUBT, WEAR WHITE THIS SUMMER

This summer white is ahead of everything, both for morning wear and for dressier occasions. One makes no mistake if the entire wardrobe for summer includes only white things. This white georgette has a particular appeal for afternoon wear. Buttons and handwork form the only trimming.

Main street, having been employed by the Great American Indemnity Co. of Mansfield to give his full time in Clinton and Greene counties. Mr. Ellis has been a splendid school man and with the same amount of enthusiasm in the insurance business he will be a splendid man for he has a large acquaintance about the two counties. He will have an office in Wilmington, the county seat. Mr. Ellis has been doing work of this kind for quite a while, but now he will devote his entire time to the auto insurance.

AUSTRIA TO PAY $300,000,000

Paris, July 8.—Austria must pay $300,000,000 in gold, the reparational clauses, now completed, provide according to L'Intransigeant.

Czecho-Slovakia, by the treaty with Austria, is required to meet one half of this total and the Polish and Jugoslavians who belonged to the former Hapsburg empire also will have to pay certain percentage of the total, it is learned.

The Allied and Associated Powers, it is stated will advance money to Austria to enable her to exploit her national railroads and the former Imperial railroads and the former Imperial properties for the benefit of her creditors.

PEPSINCO

Don't burn good fuel in a poor stove

Its a useless waste of good fuel and a needless extravagance to try to burn it in a poor stove. It is absolutely wrong to expect good food to supply energy, vitality, health and happiness if your stomach won't absorb and assimilate it. If you cannot eat with enjoyment, if your food does you no good, if food distresses rather than benefits, then you have indigestion or dyspepsia. The best remedy to use is Pepsinco.

Ask your druggist—he sells and recommends Pepsinco.

EX-PUPIL OF HOME BEATEN ALMOST TO DEATH BY HUSBAND

Columbus, O., July 8.—"I guess I have killed her. Take care of the little girl and tell my folks at Newark."

With this statement to Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Thompson, neighbors, Alfred J. Yerian, 26, returned to his home in this city and shot himself above the right ear. A short time before he had beaten his wife, Ethel, aged 23, into insensibility. It was his wife he thought he had killed after a family brawl.

Both of Mrs. Yerian's eyes were closed and she was lacerated about the head and face so that 36 stitches were necessary to close the wounds. She will recover. Yerian was a brakeman on the Pennsylvania and is said to have been jealous of his wife, who had just returned from Xenia, where she attended the reunion of the former students of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' home.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Yerian and their little daughter, were visitors at the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home, during the ex-pupils reunion which closed last Thursday, according to Mrs. J. P. Elton, chief matron at the institution, who knew Mrs. Yerian both as a pupil and ex-pupil, and was shocked when she learned through this paper of the tragedy.

The Yerian family registered together as reunion visitors. Mr. Yerian was not an ex-pupil and Mrs. Elton said she heard that he had returned to Columbus after the first day of the annual gathering; his wife and little daughter remaining until the reunion closed. So far as was noticeable, there was nothing in their attitude toward each other at the Home, and nothing had occurred while they were there to foreshadow the tragedy at their home in Columbus.

Mrs. Yerian's maiden name was Ethel Miller, and she was reared in the Home, where her 15-year-old sister, Elva, is now a pupil. Elva was permitted to go to the Yerian home on a vacation, and is now there. As is their custom, Supt. and Mrs. Elton made inquiries through the juvenile court in Columbus regarding the Yerian home before permitting the Miller child to go there. The report regarding the home was favorable, and the girl was allowed to go there to spend her vacation.

Mrs. Yerian was discharged from the Home only a few years ago, and was married soon afterward.

HOMAGE PAID TO CAPTAIN'S MEMORY

London, July 8.—England today paid homage to the memory of Captain Fryatt, the British skipper who was put to death by the Germans in Belgium for trying to ram a U-boat with his unarmed merchant ship.

Scenes recalling the funeral of Miss Edith Cavell, heroic English nurse, were enacted just before noon, when Captain Fryatt's body arrived at the Charing Cross station and was borne along the Thames embankment to St. Paul's church where solemn services were conducted in the presence of a vast throng. The roadways leading to the church were lined with bare-headed crowds.

After the ceremonies the remains were taken to Fryatt's old home in Dover court.

BUSHNELL DECIDES TO PAY HIS FINE

Not caring to carry the matter further, Attorneys for John Bushnell, Springfield man, whose chauffeur was charged with speeding in this city last week, dropped the case and paid the fine of $12.40 imposed for speeding.

When stopped by Speed Officer Stethem, the chauffeur driving the Bushnell car refused at first to come to headquarters with the officer, and had the case been carried further it is likely that a charge of resisting an officer would have been added to the speeding charge, and the chauffeur would have been deprived of his license.

Transmigration of Souls.
A fresh young man was pressing an old gentleman, who evidently felt bored, to give him an illustration of the transmigration of souls, showing how a person's identity might be maintained. At last the old gentleman replied: "Supposing you should die, your soul might appear in a canary bird; when the canary bird died it might appear in a lion or a tiger; again, it might appear in a jackass—and I might stroke its ears and say, 'My dear fellow, you have not changed a bit!'"—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Rubber "Biscuits."
In southern India a factory at which high-grade rubber is made resembles a dairy, the milky appearance of the latex adding to this illusion, as well as the precautions taken to insure absolute cleanliness. One of two methods of manufacture is generally adopted. If the estate is young and only a few trees are being tapped, the rubber is made in the form of biscuits or sheets. The biscuits are placed on racks in a warm room or an artificial dryer and allowed to remain there until dry. The finished biscuits are pale amber colored and transparent, and for this reason are popular on the market, for their purity and freedom from dirt can be judged by holding them to the light and looking through them.

EAST END NEWS

Mrs. Cudellis Hanes is confined to her bed by reason of illness.

Prof. and Mrs. S. P. Massie, of Argenta, Arkansas, announce the birth of twin boys, William E. and William Proctor. They were born July 3rd, and weighed respectively 6.3-4 and 7.1-2 lbs. Prof. Massie is a former Xenian and the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Massie, of Mulberry street, this city. He is a teacher in Shorter College at Little Rock, Ark.

A beautiful morning wedding took place at the residence of Rev. P. A. Nichols Monday morning at ten o'clock, when Mr. Ethbert Abrams, of Nitro, W. Va., was united in marriage to Mrs. Ethel Mitchell McGee, of Wilberforce. The ring ceremony was used and Bishop B. F. Lee officiated, assisted by Dr. Nichols. Only the families of the contracting parties were present. The happy couple left on the 11:19 a. m. train for Columbus. They will reside in Nitro, W. Va.

Mrs. Priscilla Baker has returned from a three weeks' visit with her son and his family in Dayton. She is feeling very much improved in health.

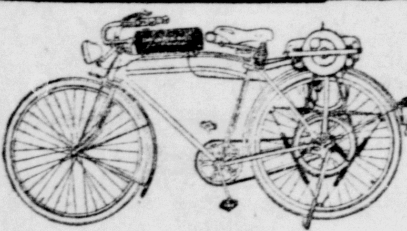

The spirit of improvement seems to be more widespread and noticeable in the East End this summer than for many years before. A number of persons have raised and remodeled their houses, several have built handsome cement porches, and others have painted and otherwise beautified their homes. Improvement is contagious and the contagion spreads rapidly. The city is helping along the good work some, by smoothing up and grading East Church street. This street will be in good condition when finished with a heavy coating of gravel.

Mr. Elijah Harris, of Springfield, Ohio, was called to Xenia Monday evening, on account of the serious illness of his daughter, Mrs. Cudellis Hanes.

Mrs. R. J. Watkins and daughter, Mrs. Clara Gaines, are attending the Centenary for a few days. They went to Columbus Sunday.

A number of Xenians attended the African Day program at the Centenary Monday. Among them were Revs. Purnell, Becton, Mr. R. E. Holmes and Misses May Summers and Virgie Thomas. The first three motored through with Rev. Harris, a visiting minister from Texas.

Mr. Ashbaugh who was 78 years of age, died at midnight last Friday, of kidney and heart trouble. He is survived by a family of nine children, five sons and four daughters.

Quick Breathing an Anaesthetic.
United States scientists who have been conducting experiments in the art of breathing claim to have demonstrated that rapid breathing of pure air acts as an anaesthetic and renders a person immune to pain as long as it is maintained. Of course, after the rapid inhalations cease the pain will be felt. By a little training, it is said, a person may induce sound sleep by deep and rapid breathing for a few minutes.

RUNAWAY MACHINE WRECKS A BARN

Inability to distinguish between the break and the accelerator resulted in carpenters going to work repairing the barn owned by C. W. Ryan, off of Whiteman street, Tuesday morning.

Monday night, Walter Dimmitt, sent his son to the barn, which he rented from Mr. Ryan, to bring out his machine. The boy thought he had his foot on the break when he was pressing the accelerator. The big barn doors were shut but neither they, nor a buggy which was in the path of the runaway machine, could stop the automobile from pursuing its course out into the alley.

Once in the air the machine was brought to a stop. The top was torn off but it was not otherwise seriously damaged. The boy was unhurt. But, Oh, you barn!

New Hair Growth After BALDNESS

HAIR GROWN ON MR. BRITAIN'S BALD HEAD BY INDIANS' MYSTERIOUS HAIR GROWER

My head at the top and back was absolutely bald. The scalp was shiny. An expert said that as he thought the hair roots were extinct, and there was no hope of my ever having a new hair growth. Yet now, at an age over 66, I have a luxuriant growth of soft, strong, lustrous hair! No trace of baldness. The pictures shown here are from my photographs.

Indians' Secret of Hair Growth

At a time when I had become discouraged at trying various hair lotions, tonics, specialists' treatments, etc., I came across, in my travels, a Cherokee Indian "medicine man" who had an elixir that he asserted would grow my hair. Although I had but little faith, I gave it a trial. To my amazement a light fuzz soon appeared. It developed, day by day, into a healthy growth, and ere long my hair was as prolific as in my youthful days.

That I was astonished and happy is expressing my state of mind mildly. Obviously, the hair roots had not been dead, but were dormant in the scalp, awaiting the fertilizing potency of the mysterious pomade. I negotiated for and came into possession of the principle for preparing this mysterious elixir, now called Kotalko, and later had the recipe put into practical form by a chemist.

That my own hair growth was permanent has been amply proved. Many men and women, also children, have reported satisfactory results from Kotalko.

How YOU May Grow YOUR Hair

My honest belief is that hair roots rarely die even when the hair falls out through dandruff, fever, excessive dryness or other disorders. I have been told by experts that often when hair falls out the roots become imbedded within the scalp, covered by hard skin, so that they remain for a time like bulbs or seeds in a bottle which will grow when fertilized.

Shampoo (which contains alkali) and hair lotions which contain alcohol are enemies to the hair, as they dry it, making it brittle. Kotalko contains those elements of nature which give new vitality to the scalp and hair.

PROVE FOR YOURSELF

Get a box of the genuine Kotalko at a reliable druggist's $300.00 GUARANTEE with each box. A small testing box of Kotalko (with testimonials, etc.) may be obtained by sending ten cents, silver or stamps, to my address below.

ESCORTED BY FIVE WARSHIPS PRESIDENT COMPLETES JOURNEY

New York, July 8.—Escorted by five dreadnoughts and a number of destroyers the transport George Washington, bearing President Wilson home from Europe, passed Ambrose lightship, 16 miles from the battery at 10:30 this morning and steamed up the lower bay amid the booming of battleship salutes.

New York, July 8.—Preceded by the battleship Oklahoma and conveyed by four destroyers, the transport George Washington, bringing President Wilson home from France, was reported eight miles east of Ambrose lightship at 9:45 this morning, according to a message received at the cruiser and transportation headquarters in Hoboken.

The George Washington is steaming toward New York harbor at about 15 knots. The destroyers in her company are the Wicks, Yarnell, Wolsey and Tarbell.

Navy officials believed the George Washington might reach quarantine shortly before noon but there was some uncertainty as to the time when she will dock. The marine superintendent for the piers of embarkation at Hoboken said it would be hardly possible to warp the big transport into her berth alongside the Leviathan until the last of the ebb tide is reached between 2:30 and 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Vice-President Marshall, Secretary of War Baker, Secretary of the Navy Daniels, other cabinet members and a delegation of congressmen went aboard the battleship, Pennsylvania off Staten Island at 5:30 this morning. A few minutes later, the Pennsylvania, heading a fleet of four dreadnoughts and 36 destroyers from the Atlantic fleet, steamed slowly out to sea. They were to meet the presidential party about 30 miles off Sandy Hook between 9 and 10 o'clock and boom the first official welcome home.

The president is coming home under perfect weather conditions. The sun shone brightly this morning, the air was cool and a stiff breeze was blowing.

The main welcoming party that boarded the Pennsylvania from the destroyer included Vice-President and Mrs. Marshall, Secretary of the Treasury Glass, Secretary of War Baker, Secretary of the Navy Daniels, and

Mrs. Daniels, Secretary of Labor Wilson and Mrs. Wilson, Under Secretary of State Polk, former Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo and Mrs. McAdoo, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Sayre, son-in-law and daughter of the president and a committee of Democratic congressmen.

As the George Washington passed abreast the dreadnoughts they were to fire a salute of 21 guns in the president's honor. Then they were to swing about and escort the transport to the harbor, the Pennsylvania flying the pennant of Admiral Wilson, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet, leading the way, with the George Washington directly astern, flanked on one side by the dreadnoughts Oklahoma and Utah and on the other by the Delaware and North Dakota.

New York state and New York City reception committees were to meet the George Washington off quarantine.

The guns of Fort Hancock and then later of Fort Hamilton and Wadsworth and Governor's Island boomed greetings to the president as the transport makes its way up the harbor.

The George Washington is scheduled to dock at Hoboken at about 1 p. m., where thousands of school children will greet the president. The streets of Hoboken and the route the presidential party will take up Fifth avenue to Carnegie Hall were bedecked with flags and bunting.

The president is expected to begin his Carnegie hall address at about 2:30 p. m. Admission was by ticket only and it was certain the hall would be jammed to its capacity. President Wilson will leave for Washington immediately after the speech.

In addition to the President and Mrs. Wilson, French Ambassador Jusserand and Mme. Jusserand are returning to the United States aboard the George Washington. The transport is bringing over 2,500 soldiers.

GRAND RULER OF ELKS SAYS ALL ELKS MUST SERVE THE LAW

Atlantic City N. J., July 8.—Members of the Order of Elks must not seek to evade the prohibition law, Bruce A. Campbell, retiring grand exalted ruler, declared in his final report to the national convention here today.

"Every Elk is entitled to his views as to the propriety of prohibition laws," he declared, "but as to the question of obedience to them, all Elks can and must have but one opinion and that is that we must in all instances serve the law."

"We must also pledge ourselves as steadfastly opposed to Bolshevism and we must pledge ourselves to aid in driving it from the nation by all lawful means."

Commander Evangeline Booth of the Salvation Army, the first woman ever invited to speak before the grand lodge, today thanked the Elks for their support of the Salvation Army in the recent campaign.

ROME QUIET AFTER ARREST OF ANARCHISTS

Rome, July 8.—This city is quiet following the arrest of anarchists who were plotting to seize public supplies and establish a reign of terror among the population by use of explosives. The police raided an anarchist meeting and made 10 arrests.

Later on a group of plotters went to Pietra Alata fort, outside of the city and attempted to induce Arditi troops to desert but were fired upon. The soldiers left the fort and arrested many of the anarchist band.

CONGRESS CONVENES AFTER ITS RECESS

Washington, July 8.—Congress reconvened today after a six day recess of both houses. With President Wilson scheduled to address the senate on Thursday when he will present the treaty of Versailles, with the League of Nations covenant incorporated, together with the Franco-American pact, there remained but two days for opponents of the League and of the pact to continue the verbal warfare they have waged for the past two months.

The president's address, which is reported to be a 5,000 word document, was being awaited with keen anticipation by both administration senators, and those who have lined up in opposition. Whether, in view of the almost solid opposition of the Republican ranks to the League of Nations, his speech would be conciliatory in tone, or whether it would couched in sharper language, was being made a question for considerable speculation today.

GERMAN ASSEMBLY WILL VOTE ON PEACE TREATY WEDNESDAY

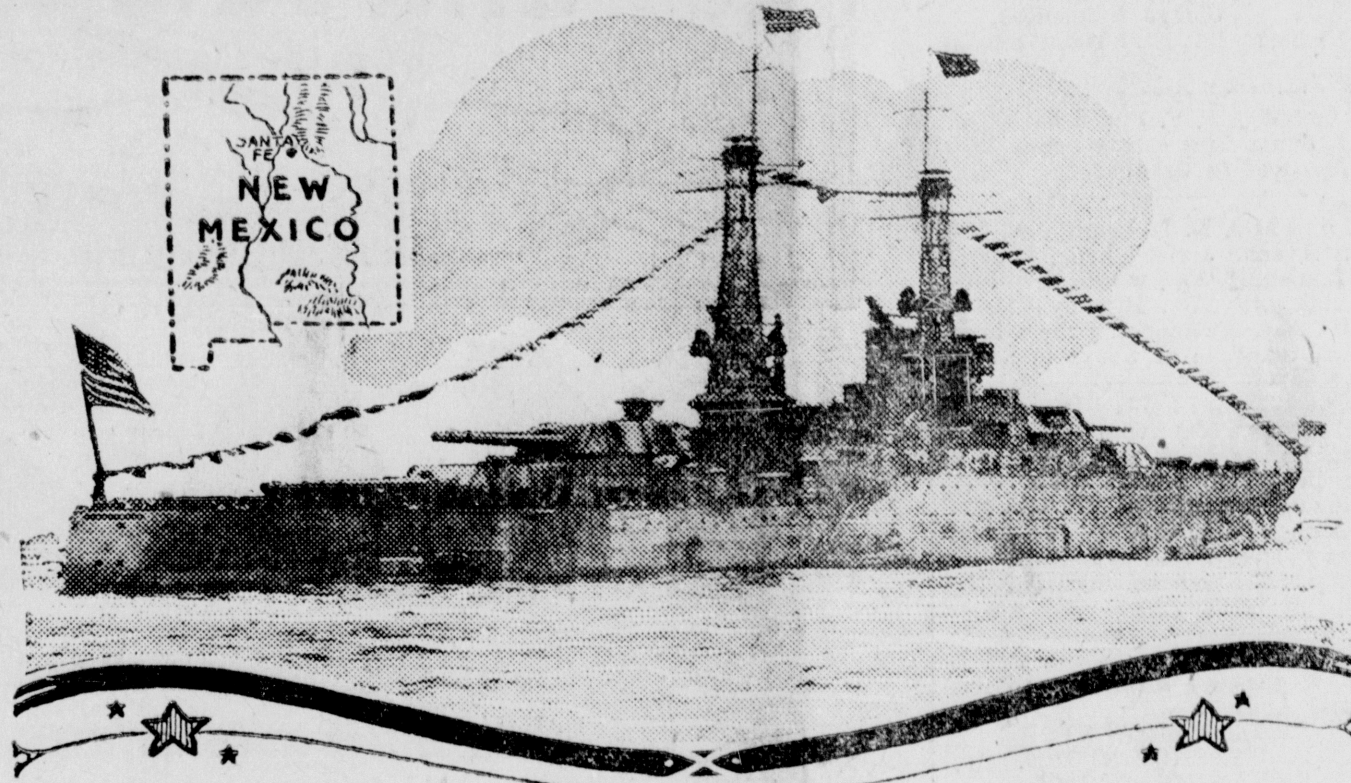

Berlin, July 7, via London July 8.—The German national assembly is scheduled to vote Wednesday upon acceptance or rejection of the peace treaty, the federal committee having approved ratification of the pact today. TROLLEY STRIKE IN CLEVELAND COMES TO AN END

Cleveland, July 8.—The strike of 2,600 union street car men, which has tied up traction lines here since Sunday morning, ended last night when President John J. Stanley, of the Cleveland Railway company, accepted Mayor Harry L. Davis' proposal to arbitrate the company's demand for an increase in the dividend rate from six to seven per cent.

The men's demands for a 12 cents an hour increase in wages was granted. Car service was resumed this morning.

All of the car men will be reinstated in their former positions, with the possible exception of eight, who were arrested for alleged destruction of company property during Sunday morning's disorders. In the event of conviction in court, union officials agreed they would not insist on the reinstatement of these men.

The emergency clause in the Taylor grant, under which the cars are operated passed as a result of war conditions, will remain. It permits the company to charge six cents carfare and one cent for a transfer. However, the present fare of five cents with one cent transfer will remain effective temporarily.

The increase in rate of pay will be from 43 cents an hour the first three months of service, 46 cents the next nine months and 48 cents thereafter to 55, 58 and 60 cents respectively.

AUSTRIA MAY BE ADMITTED TO THE LEAGUE IN OCTOBER

Paris, July 8.—Austria may be admitted to the League of Nations at the meeting in Washington in October. That was the situation today upon the eve of the presentation of the remaining peace terms to the Austrian delegation. Austria had already made application for admission to the league and was informed that if she showed good faith she would be admitted soon.

NORWAY LAYS CLAIM TO SPITZBERGEN

Paris July 8.—The Norwegian government has laid formal claims before the peace conference for possession of Spitzbergen, it was claimed today.

The Norwegian government has also asked the peace conference to secure for it reparation for ships and sailors lost as a result of Germany's submarine warfare. The matter has been referred to the reparations committee.

CLEVELAND MAN CUTS WIFE'S THROAT

Cleveland, O., July 8.—Police today were seeking the motive that caused Martin Kennedy, 46 to cut the throat of his wife with a razor and then fatally wounded himself with the same instrument. Mrs. Kennedy ran from her home, her throat slashed open, falling dead on the lawn. Kennedy died at a hospital. He also attempted the life of his 14 year old son.

NEEDS A REST.
Milan, July 8.—Philip Scheidemann, former premier of Germany and leader of the Majority Socialists, has arrived at Brissago, Switzerland, on Lake Maggiore for a month's rest.

HINDENBURG BEGS FOR PRIVILEGE TO TAKE KAISER'S PLACE

London, July 8.—In Germany the fate of the former kaiser rapidly is overshadowing all other issues, even the ratification of the peace treaty, in point of national interest and agitation, dispatches from Berlin showed. The two chief events reported by Berlin in the last 24 hours were:

1. Former Field Marshal von Hindenburg, in an open letter to Marshal Foch, begged the allied Generalissimo to use his influence to save the former kaiser from trial, and repeated his offer to take Count Hohenloern's place as defendant.

2. Colonel Reinhard, chief figure in the new German volunteer army, addressed a similar appeal to General Pershing through Colonel Parker, head of the American Mission at Berlin.

"The war is over," said Field Marshal Von Hindenburg in his letter to Foch. "The German citizens have determined to accept the hard terms imposed on them, and the army officers also are ready to make every sacrifice for the fulfillment of peace as far as their honor remains unimpaired."

"Any soldier failing to interpose himself on behalf of the Supreme War Lord, to whom he has sworn allegiance is devoid of honor."

"The war, despite the harshness necessary in conducting it has shown examples on both sides, to prove that high, moral, soldierly thinking and feeling and a high sense of honor, common to all cultured nations, are not dead."

"As the oldest soldier and adviser of the former kaiser, I consider it to be my duty to address to you, Herr Generalissimo a request to use your influence in prevailing upon the Allied Powers to desist from their demand for the surrender of the former kaiser and thus to save our race and our army from ignominious humiliation. I hereby place myself at the complete disposal of the Allies in the former kaiser's stead. Every member of the old German army is ready to do likewise."

COURT OF APPEALS IS AFFIRMED BY THE SUPREME COURT

The Supreme court in a decision rendered today affirmed the court of appeals, in the case of the Miami Conservancy District against O. P. Nitman and others, holding that a verdict can be rendered by three-fourths of a jury in an appropriation proceedings under the conservancy act. The decision is in favor of the land owners. The jury gave the defendants a verdict for $8,500 which was signed by only ten jurors. The conservancy district appealed the case on the grounds that it was necessary for twelve jurors to sign the verdict.

JESS WILLARD ON WAY BACK TO FARM

Toledo, O., July 8.—Back to the farm. Jess Willard, shorn of his crown, but possessor of something over $100,000 as a consolation prize for the loss of the heavyweight title, is speeding back to Lawrence, Kansas, in a new automobile bought from the training camp proceeds while here. Accompanied by his wife and a couple of friends, the former champion left here late yesterday. Traces of Dempsey's pounding were still apparent.

Gate and attendance figures were promised today by Tex Rickard who said the checking job had proven a bigger one than anticipated.

GIRL SAYS SHE IS GLAD SHE KILLED MAN WHO JILTED HER

Chicago, Ill., July 8.—"Sorry? Sorry after what he did to me? I should say not. He wrecked my life and he has paid for it."

This was the amazing declaration of a seventeen-year-old girl, who was found yesterday standing beside the body of Benjamin E. Burr, well-known Divorce Court attorney, as Burr lay dying on the floor of his private office.

The girl, Miss Margaret Seithamier turned to those who rushed into the office, and throwing a pearl-handled revolver on the body of the dying man, declared:

"Don't be afraid. There's no more bullets. The pity is that more didn't hit him. He deserves to die. He ruined me and wouldn't keep his promise to marry me."

Burr was shot in the throat and back. He was rushed to St. Luke's hospital where he died on an operating table.

Meanwhile Miss Seithamier and her half sister, Miss Marie Larson, 20 years old, a divorcee and former friend of Burr, who had accompanied the girl to Burr's office, had been taken to Central station to be questioned by police. She was informed of Burr's death during the course of her narrative.

The girl told her tale in a sprightly fashion pausing from time to time to pat her hair into place under a modish light sailor hat and to smooth her blue dress over her knees. Burr's version of the affair never will be known as he died before he could make a statement. The only words he uttered after the shooting were: "Please, honey, don't shoot again."

In response the girl pulled the trigger again and again.

LANSING TO START HOME NEXT FRIDAY

Paris, July 8.—Secretary of State Lansing, member of the American peace delegation, is planning to sail for the United States on Friday, it was stated today. Owing to the delay of the German delegates arriving here the first meeting regarding reparations will not be held until Thursday.

WORLD SHORTAGE OF HIDES SAY OFFICIALS

Chicago, July 8.—There is a world shortage of hides and for this reason chiefly, shoes are to be from $3 to $4 per pair higher, according to officials of the National Shoe Dealers exposition, which is in session here. All foreign countries, it was declared, must come to America for shoes and this has created a demand that is another factor in the high cost of footwear.

BIG THREE DECIDE TO HOLD THE EX-KAISER'S TRIAL IN LONDON

Parks, July 8.—The decision of Premier Lloyd George, Premier Clemenceau and President Wilson to try the ex-kaiser for his war crimes in London were described in official circles today as a "gentlemen's agreement." Secretary of State Lansing, after a conference with his associates, is satisfied the big three were in accord upon this matter.

In some quarters the question is being asked: Did not Premier Lloyd George "put one over" on his colleagues in being first to announce publicly that the former emperor would be arraigned in London? In this same connection it was suggested that President Wilson and Premier Clemenceau were so absorbed with other matters that they left the details of the ex-kaiser's trial to the British Prime Minister.

The admission in official circles that the big three at one of their final meetings agreed to try the former kaiser in London seems to dispose of all doubts about Premier Lloyd George being bluffing. The German delegates are not completely enlightened yet, but they frankly admit that the decision regarding the date of the former war lord did not necessarily have to be communicated to them. It is explained that the president had so many things on his mind before his departure for home that it is very probable he forgot about the trial of the former German emperor, or it may be he did not attach as much importance to it as Premier Lloyd George did.

The manner in which the question was said to have been raised by Lloyd George at a meeting of the big three is causing amusement.

"It was characteristic of Lloyd George," is the comment heard on all sides.

The version that is commonly accepted is that Premier Lloyd George simply said to his colleagues:

"Well, I suppose you gentlemen have no objection if the ex-kaiser is tried in London?"

Thereupon Premier Clemenceau shrugged his shoulders as if it didn't matter to him, and President Wilson assumed a similar attitude of indifference. The big three then turned their attention to other business.

The decisions of the big three were customarily passed on in written minutes to the secretariat of the conference but in this case there was no such proceeding so far as can be learned.

It is generally understood that Premier Clemenceau and President Wilson both objected to the former kaiser being tried in Paris.

Then the suggestion was made that he be tried in Washington and President Wilson again objected. The suggestion of Lloyd George that he be arraigned in London afforded the solution.

BIG DIRIGIBLE TO START RETURN TRIP WEDNESDAY

Mineloa, L. I., July 8.—The British dirigible R-34 will hoist anchor and start on the 3,000 mile trip back to her base in Scotland between 11 o'clock tonight and 5 o'clock tomorrow morning, barring unexpected changes in the weather.

This announcement was made this morning by Major Pritchard, in charge of the dirigible overnight, following an announcement a few hours earlier that the transatlantic airship could not be made ready for the start this morning.

"We could not complete the work of overhauling the engines in time to get ready this morning," said Major Pritchard. "There were quite a number of minor troubles with the engine when we arrived. These repairs will be completed before night. We will push off before 5 o'clock tomorrow morning unless the weather reports are extremely bad."

Before the R-34 makes her getaway the weather reports will be scanned carefully. If the weather appears favorable at the start, Major Scott, the commander, probably will take the southern course, 400 miles north of the Azores, but if strong winds are blowing in an unfavorable direction she will return over the same route by which she came. She will carry 1,000 gallons less gasoline on the return trip than on the voyage to America, counting upon westerly winds to push her along.

British and American aviation officials guarding the R-34 received two distinct scares today when the rear of the great airship twice settled to the ground. Once the rear gondola bumped the earth and it was feared for a moment that the stern of the big airship was about to be seriously damaged. Several men were ordered aboard to release water ballast at the stern. After they had been at work a few minutes the stern rose to a correct position and the danger was over. After sun rise the big dirigible was brought down and securely lashed to earth to avoid yesterday's accident in which her envelope was torn open.

ELECTORS TO ELECT GERMANY'S PRESIDENT

Weimar, July 8.—The German National Assembly still is debating the new constitution and has endorsed the article qualifying any male citizen, naturalized or native, who has attained the age of 35 for the office of President.

The naturalization provision was included owing to realignment of the German frontiers, depriving many former German subjects of their nationality. The constitution provides that the President shall be chosen by popular vote.

DICTATOR WANTS MONITORS RETURNED

Vienna, July 7.—via London, July 8.—Bela Kun, Red dictator of Hungary, today demanded that Serbia return the monitors which the counter revolutionists took into Serbian waters when the counter uprising at Budapest failed. The monitors had been lying among a group of islands in the Danube south of Budapest when the uprising collapsed.

FRENCH WINE INTERESTS ARE MAKING A KICK

Paris, July 8.—The French wine interests have begun to bring pressure to bear upon the government to make some representation to Washington regarding the tremendous blow dealt French wine trade by prohibition in the United States says the Petit Journal.

Narcisse Cussevier, president of the wine and liquor federation, representing 177 syndicates, said today:

"One of our best markets is now closed to French wines, spirits and cordials. We lose a trade worth annually $20,000,000, including $8,000,000 worth of champagne. French wine growers, dealers, barrel and bottle makers will suffer under American prohibition. It is a disastrous blow against the revival of trade in France where 67 departments grow wine."

"We hope the government will draw Washington's attention to this result after prohibition in the United States. We know we cannot interfere with America's domestic questions but the consequences of this measure are so grave to France that we can not remain silent. If America only knew that our race, whose dash, endurance and patience were exemplified during the war, owes many of its qualities to the wines and brandies of France!"

BURLESON WILL NOT SAY WHETHER HE WILL RESIGN OR NOT

Washington, July 8.—"There is absolutely no truth in the statement which has been spread broadcast over the country today that I have resigned as postmaster general. You may deny it flatly and I will be obliged to you." The postmaster general made this statement shortly before noon over the telephone to an International News Service representative.

Washington, July 8.—Postmaster General Burleson refused today either to confirm or deny a report that his resignation would be placed in the hands of President Wilson when the latter arrives in Washington tonight. The postmaster general denied himself to press representatives, sending out word that he would not discuss the matter. His refusal to deny the report led up to the general belief in official circles here that his resignation had been prepared and was awaiting the president.

Burleson has been under incessant fire ever since the wire communication systems of the country were taken over by the government as a war measure and their administration placed in the hands of the postoffice department. Charges that he had "wrecked" these systems were made on many occasions from the floor of both houses of congress.

TUMULTY KNOWS NOTHING OF REPORT

New York, July 8.—Reports that Postmaster General Burleson had resigned were brought to the attention of Secretary of the President, Jos. Tumulty today and elicited the following statement: "I know nothing of it and I don't think there is any truth in it."

XENIA PAPERS TO ENLARGE PLANT

At a recent meeting of the board of directors of The Chew Publishing Co. it was decided to purchase a new three deck, Straightline Hoe press, upon which the Gazette and Republican will be printed.

This press is of the type used by all city papers, and has a capacity to print a paper three times as large, and eight times as fast, as the press now in use by this company.

Forms used on this press must be stereotyped and in addition to the press the company will install a complete stereotyping foundry consisting of eight additional pieces of machinery.

The new equipment will be installed in the basement of the Gazette building on South Detroit street within the next few months, and will give the company facilities for publishing its newspapers that are rarely equalled in the plants of the ordinary small city daily. The growth of these newspapers has, however, necessitated the procuring by the publishers, of faster and more improved methods of issuing their publications, and nothing is to be gained in making them the equal of papers published in towns many times the size of Xenia.

They were also honor guests at a supper given by Mr. and Mrs. Clark Rethem at their home in Xenia Saturday evening.

A lovely picnic supper on the beautiful lawn at the parsonage on West Market street, was enjoyed by thirty members of the Second Auxiliary of the Women's Home Missionary Society of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, Monday evening. After supper a short business meeting was held and the rest of the evening was spent playing croquet and other games on the lawn.

Forest L. Shoup, well known Beaver Creek township young man and nephew of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Harshman of North King street, arrived in New York on the steamer Leviathan Saturday night, and is at Camp Mills. A telegram announcing his arrival was received by his cousin, Miss Myrtle Harshman. He was overseas 14 months, and was a member of the Second Pioneer Infantry.

Mrs. Susan Crabb is leaving Tuesday night for Cedar Falls, Iowa, where she will visit Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wallace, nephew and niece. She expects to be gone about a month.

Unity Court No. 12 D. O. C. will please meet this evening at 7:30 o'clock, Hattie Hawkins, W. C. Ida B. Shields, R. of D.

Optimistic Thought

Strength is desirable, yet not a matter for boasting, for in this bulls and wild animals are superior to us.

John William Jobe, Kenneth Hudson and William LeSourd have gone to Camp Roosevelt, near Muskegon, Mich., where they will spend four weeks, and take a course in military training. Camp Roosevelt is under government auspices.

REV. MELVIN E. BECK
RESIGNS PASTORATE

The Rev. Melvin E. Beck has resigned the pastorate of the First Reformed church, this city, and accepted a call to Grace Reformed church, Jackson Boulevard and Washington avenue, Chicago.

Rev. Mr. Beck presented his resignation to the consistory of the church, and announced it to his congregation Sunday morning. The resignation takes effect August 18, and on September 1, Mr. Beck takes up his pastoral duties for the Chicago congregation.

Rev. Beck has been pastor of the local Reformed church only a year and a half, and his resignation came as a complete surprise to his congregation. He was located in Columbus before coming to Xenia, and succeeded the Rev. W. D. Loucks as pastor here. He has been a popular pastor, and his congregation regrets to part with him, as well as with his charming young wife and lovely little daughter, Catherine.

The End.

We cannot see the end from the beginning, but as long as we can see the beginning, whether it be the year we are entering, or some duty that is required of us, we see enough—one step at a time—and we know, that we shall be so guided on to the end. If we sit down and wait for the whole plan to unfold before our view, we shall wait endlessly.

JESS WILLARD
GETS CREDIT FOR
BEING GAME GUY

New York, July 8.—Jess Willard will go down in history as the only heavyweight champion who quit in a battle.

He did quit, of course, but he quit only when he could go no further. No champion ever took a pasting such as he took. But Nelson had just such a face when he fought Wolgast and fought on until he was stopped by the referee. Carl Morris had just such a face when he fought Jim Flynn here and he went the limit, but he didn't hit that hot canvass seven times in a row and get up.

Jeffries, too, had a very mused up map in his second fight with Fitzsimmons, but he was never on the floor. You must remember that Willard was knocked down hard every time he took the count. He never once dropped to avoid punishment. He took everything that Dempsey had and then fought two rounds more before he quit.

No one wanted to see any more of that fight. We knew that Dempsey couldn't loose after the third round. Willard was blind, weak and gone then. To continue the thing would have been nonsense. Willard might have been killed any moment. As it was, any number of people yelled to the referee to stop it in the second round.

Willard quit when nature quit him. He held out just as long as he could and then caved in. A man who took the licking that he did in that first round and then came out for more in the second is not a quitter.

You can't tell Sergeant Walter Monahan that Jess Willard is yellow. A fresh cake eater, coming in on a train from Toledo yesterday tried to tell this and got an awful raz:

"Say you bimbo," piped Monahan, sticking a big thick fist under the cake eater's snout, "if you had one tenth of the nerve Willard has, you might almost be a man."

Monahan was not downcast over the defeat of Willard, although it is a terrible shock to him.

"Poor fellow," said Monahan, "he was licked with that first punch, but did you notice how he kept on? It was too bad that he got such a black eye. He might have given Dempsey a swell time only for that. Gee, he was dead after that."

"When I picked him off the floor at the end of the first round he said to me 'what's the matter? What? What's this?' Gee, we gave him the ice water and the smelling salts, but he wasn't right even when he went out for the second round. When he got back from the third round he was worse than ever."

"He asked me, 'what's up? Is the fight still on? What kind of a fight is it?' He was gone. We all knew it. We held a consultation and decided to throw up the sponge. Willard didn't tell me to throw it up."

"Next morning after the fight Mrs. Willard was upstairs while we were having breakfast. Jess was at the table ripping into steak and potatoes. He leaned over to me and laughingly said: 'Gee, I'll bet that my wife thinks I am a rotten fighter. Well, I know how it feels to lose now. I sent many a poor fellow home with a black eye and finally I drew a prize one myself.'"

ONE OF FAYETTE COUNTY'S
MOST HONORED CITIZENS

Fayette county is proud to call her own, Mr. Franklin Jacobs, of Parrett's Station, who is now in his 96th year, and has the honor of being one of the only three Mexican war veterans living in Ohio today.

Mr. Jacobs also saw three years of active service in the Civil War and participated in some of the hardest battles of that great conflict.

It is a remarkable fact that Mr. Jacobs at his advanced age is in splendid health and is keenly alive to current events, spending much of his time reading the newspapers.

Enlisting for service for the Mexican war in 1847, Mr. Jacobs fought in last four decisive battles at Contreras, Churubusco, Molino del Ray and Chapultepec, receiving his discharge from Fort Monroe, Va., in 1848. He received a certificate of merit recorded at the Adjutant General's office, May 10, 1848. Mr. Jacobs enlisted in the Civil War, September 6, 1861, and fought in the battles of Louisville, Va., Elk River, Va., Strawberry Plains, Tenn., and Knoxville. At Cumberland Gap he assisted with the capture of 2,000 prisoners. He was honorably discharged from the army in 1864.

The record this fine old gentleman has to his credit is a remarkable one and he enjoys the peace and contentment of ripe old age among loved ones, neighbors and friends of his home community.

CLYDE J. KUSSMAUL
HAS ARRIVED HOME

Clyde J. Kussmaul, popular Xenia soldier, received his discharge at Camp Sherman, Saturday night, and arrived in this city early Sunday morning. Guy McCoy motoring to camp and bringing Mr. Kussmaul and Bernard Hollencamp, who also was discharged Saturday, back home with him.

Mr. Kussmaul, who was a fireman on the Pennsylvania Railroad, was among the first Xenia soldiers in Camp Sherman. He was one of a bunch of men who volunteered for overseas service as motor truck drivers, and he spent about 20 months in France.

FUNERAL SERVICES
FOR MRS. VANHORN

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Van Horn were held at the late home on South Detroit street at three o'clock Monday afternoon. The services were in charge of Rev. Albert Read of the Baptist church.

Burial was made in Woodland cemetery the pall bearers being W. D. Walter and C. S. VanHorn, D. T. Henshaw, Charles Ganger and Arthur Henshaw.

Stone Don't Grow.

Natural agencies operate to form beds of rock such as limestone, etc., just the same as beds of rock now in existence were formed at earlier periods in the earth's history. But the rocks and boulders scattered about the surface of the earth do not grow; notwithstanding the popular belief to the contrary. Instead, they actually diminish in size, owing to the action of frost, wind and other disintegrating agencies.

Stockingless style in Paris.

Here is shown one of the chic beauties of Paris posing prettily while the June breeze displays more of her stockingless limb than perhaps she cares to have exposed. The fashion of stockingless limbs, introduced at the opening of the racing season in Paris, became quite popular with the ultra fashionable. After a tentative flaunting of the hoseless legs many of the fashionable women decided against it on the ground that their calves became sunburned and dusty. The style is still in vogue at the famous society beaches of Deauville and Dinard and other watering places such as Vichy, Luxon and Contrexeville.

Charles Munger went to Washington, C. H., this morning for a couple of days visit with friends.

Charles Weaver, the Caesar Creek township thrasher, started the season's work by threshing out 1,150 bushels of wheat in one day. Mr. Weaver knows about how to get a threshing machine down to business.

The word "Magnet" is derived from the name of the city of Magnesia, in Asia Minor, where the properties of the lodestone are said to have been discovered. It has, however, been asserted that the name comes from Magnes, the name of a shepherd who discovered magnetic power by being held on Mount Ida, in Greece, by its attraction for the nails in his shoes.

THE BAD BOYS OF THE SEN- ATE WHO WON'T PLAY.

The League of Nations is not atsolutely perfect; what instrument could be, with fourteen nations taking part in it, with their different desires, their varying interests, their radical differences, and all of them demanding reparation for injury received at the hands of the conquered foe? But it will fulfill its purpose;
it will prevent war.

However, it does not suit Senators Lodge, Knox and many others in the upper house of Congress. They want the league and the treaty built according to their specifications. Have not the opposing Senators sufficient perspicacity to realize the momentous and far-reaching effects of the work that has been done at Versailles?

The war is over, but the waves of the devastating flood have not yet receded. The embers of the great conflagration are still smoldering, and but little would be required to fan them into a fierce flame. All Europe is in a ferment. Bolshevism menaces the old world. Anarchy is gathering its forces and threatens to sweep like a destroying angel over the eastern hemisphere. Starvation, murder, rapine and destruction are doing their malign work, the aftermath of the sanguinary harvest produced by the world war.

The outlook is not bright, but there is a remedy, and one only. The dawn which is the harbinger of the day appears on the horizon; it is the league of nations, and all that stands between that and the hope of permanent world peace is the United States Senate. May the members of that body lay aside their prejudices and jealousies and unite in a patriotic effort to bring to complete fruition the great work accomplished at Versailles.

OUR "WET" PRESIDENT.

President Wilson seems to be somewhat annoyed at the prohibition situation. Almost petulantly he concluded a cablegram on war prohibition, "When demobilization is terminated, my power to act without congressional action will be exercised."
There is no doubt about his legal right to restore the groggshops when all the boys will be home again to be enslaved. His outspoken purpose saves the country any further guessing and suspense. But that one sentence reveals that the criticism of Christian people, notably by his own fellow Presbyterians has fallen on barren soil. Many reformers have been busy of late looking up the President's record on this issue and have reached the conclusion that he has been consistently as "wet" as he darded to be. He delayed the passage of any liquor restrictive measures as long as possible, and when Congress became more desperate he agreed to war prohibition, but he used his influence to set forward the date to the longest limit. Now that the country knows where he stands on this question, we will be able to anticipate what to expect. It may be necessary for Congress to pass still another national prohibition bill to fill out the time to January 16, 1920, if the President carries out his threat when demobilization is completed.—Western Christian Advocate.

EVEN THE ZOO FEELS THE HARD TIMES.

Not alone in the sacred confines of the home is the upward flight of food prices a thing of moment and grave concern. The care-free beasts in the zoo have felt it as well.

It used to be that life in the zoo was one grand sweet breakfast, but not now—alas, not now! No longer does Mr. Lion inquire politely of Mrs. Lion whether she will have a bit of the sirloin or prefer all porter-house. He walks around the chunk of horse meat which the keeper sticks into the cage, sniffs a little, turns up his nose, shrugs his shoulders and says: "My dear girl, I trust you can eat this stuff. I've heard father and mother tell about killing these creatures themselves, back in their pioneer days in the jungle, and finding them quite palatable and all that.
But believe me, I never expected to have to ask my wife to eat anything like it."

Man should stop and think ere he raises prices and taxes incomes, how far reaching are the effects of his acts. Many a poor kitty is now living on skim milk who was born to the cream pitcher, and the lone wolf in the zoo shares the troubles and the horse meat of the king of beasts.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS BY JANE PHELPS.

"A THRILL WITH THOUGHTS OF WHAT THE FUTURE HELD."

CHAPTER VII.
Everett was very rich—so father said. He had large business interests, which required a great deal of attention. He also said that I was a very lucky girl to marry a man who could care so well for me should anything happen to him. I thought so, too. And while I had none of that feeling of intense love, I had read about, for my intended husband, I was wildly excited a thrill with thoughts of what the future held for me.

Everett wrote often, and constantly sent me presents. Lovely things, a ring, a pair of bracelets, and a dull gold locket set in diamonds with a picture of himself inside. All appropriate presents for a young girl. When I showed the locket to Rose, she said:

"He doesn't love himself, does he?
Putting himself in a diamond frame." I didn't let it make me angry. I felt sure Rose was jealous.
"Why don't you send him one of yours for his watch case? I'll bet he's got the first in there yet."

When Rose said that I did get angry, and cried. She was awfully sorry, but that didn't make me stop thinking she might be right. And such thoughts made me awfully unhappy. Sometimes made me almost wish I wasn't to marry Everett until I too had been married before.
Yet I hardly understood how I could accomplish that. But if I had also loved someone first it would have seemed more fair.

I did have my picture taken and sent it to Everett. I told him I thought he might like to put it in his watch. He thanked me very nicely, but said it did not do me justice, and that he would have one taken by a good photographer after we were married.

I was awfully chagrined, and so glad I had not told Rose I had had it taken. It was the first thing I ever had given him, and he had not been pleased with it. Perhaps it wasn't very good. I imagine our country photographer was not a finished artist, but I couldn't help wishing he had said he was pleased with it.

But I hadn't much time for worry over anything. It was all hurry and bustle until October. The time fairly flew. Rose came over every day and helped mother and me sew. I don't know what I would have done without her, but all the time I had it in my mind to make it up to her after I was married.

Mother hadn't acted real happy over my marrying Everett any of the time. I often caught her looking at me sadly, once or twice with tears in her eyes. Then often her eyes were red in the morning. I was sure she had been crying, although she denied it. But mother never objected to anything father thought the best thing to do for us, so she said very little. I learned long afterward that she was afraid because of heart trouble.

"I hope you will be a very happy wife, dear," she said one day when we were alone. "You will have to constantly remember that Mr. Graham is much older than you are, and that his views of life are formed, that he has had experience. He may be unused to young girls, and at times make things rather difficult for you. But love can smooth away all difficulties."

Mother sighed a little when she finished. She would have been even more disturbed had she known just how difficult things were to be for me; just how hard my being young and inexperienced was to make my life.

"Of course, we will be happy," I answered her gayly, reassuring myself and her at the same time. "Everett must love me very dearly, even if he isn't very demonstrative. He didn't have to ask me to marry him, mother, you know. He did it because he wanted me."

"I trust it is for the best," was all the answer mother made, but that night I heard her talking to father long after they had gone to bed, and when they supposed I was asleep. I couldn't hear what they said, but I was sure they were talking of me—my future.

I smiled confidently as I lay wide eyed in the dark. Dear mother was so foolish to worry about me. Of course, I was going to be happy. Yet I couldn't help a wish that Everett would make a little more fuss over me.

Love for Everett.

WIND AND RAIN STORM OCCURS NEAR JAMESTOWN

A wind and rain storm that took on the nature of a tornado swept a half mile wide swath through the country between Jamestown and Cedarville Saturday afternoon doing damage to wheat and to trees.

The wind storm was accompanied with heavy rain. At one point shocked wheat was blown down for a distance of a half mile and in a swathe about a half mile wide. At the John Spahr residence, a grove of maple shade trees in front of the house were torn and splintered by the twisters.

No damage to buildings was reported although the Citizen's Telephone Company had trouble along the lines at that point and there was no communication for a time. Repairmen from the Cedarville and Jamestown offices repaired the wires and reestablished the connection Monday morning.

The storm was one of the worst that has visited this section for some time, and might have been considerably worse considering the nature of the twister.

Splendid Way To Reduce Your Weight

There is perhaps no one thing that so plainly shows the passing of our youth as the horrible tendency to put on too much weight after we have reached the age of 25 or 30 years.
However young our faces may appear, the sagging, flabby figure and forty inch waist "gives us away."

The cause of this over stoutness is that our stomachs convert the food we eat into fat because there is not enough oxygen in the blood to produce a proper combustion to destroy the excess fatty tissue. Fat people will be pleased to learn of a simple home method that is wonderfully efficient in reducing weight, quickly and easily without a starving diet, violent massage or strenuous exercise. Go to any drug store and get a box of Phynola; take five grains after each meal and at bed time. This treatment will often give quick relief from overburdening fat. Phynola taken at meal time assists the stomach in giving you the benefit of the food you eat; at the same time dissolves the fatty tissue from any part of the body where there

Mad as a Hatter.
Mad, in Anglo-Saxon, is frequently used as a synonym for violent, furious, angry or venomous. Atter, in old English, means adder or viper. Hence the combination of the two words "mad" and the corrupted "hatter" merely means "as venomous as an adder."
And the proverbial saying has, therefore, no reference to hatmaking at all.

Mixed Summer Foods The Cause Of Much Indigestion

SUMMER days are days of careless living, kitchens too hot for cooking, cold lunches at the homes of friends, open-air picnics, with the result that many a family is down with indigestion.

Give the stomach and bowels a new start by taking a dose of a good laxative-tonic like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.
Then put variety into your diet by eating more warm food. It is more easily digested.

A bottle of Syrup Pepsin can be bought at any drug store for 50c and $1, the latter the family size. It acts so gently and safely that it can be given even to a baby in constipation, indigestion, "summer colds" and similar ills.

The formula on which Syrup Pepsin

is based was written by Dr. Caldwell over 30 years ago. It is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that trains the stomach-muscles to do their work naturally so that medicines can again be dispensed with. Over 6 million bottles of Syrup Pepsin are sold by druggists every year. That is recommendation in itself.

If you have never used Syrup Pepsin, send your address for a free trial bottle to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 489 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

ENGAGEMENT OF POPULAR COUPLE IS ANNOUNCED

Entertaining a group of girl friends, members of the S. O. S. club and a few others at her home on West Third street, Monday evening, Miss Katharine Landaker announced to them the date for the coming marriage of Miss Anne Weaver, to Schuyler N. McClellan, which will take place next Monday, July 14.

The interesting secret was told to the guest in a unique manner. A bit of original verse was given to each, with the instruction that the question in each line was to be answered with a letter or figure, when all were finished the completed answers read backward making the announcement. So quiet had plans for the marriage been made that the announcement was a complete surprise to the guests.

Miss Landaker used hollyhocks in the hallway and living room, carrying out a pink and white color arrangement. Ices moulded into figures, heart shaped cakes, mints and punch were served. There were fifteen guests. Mrs. Robert Dean, a recent bride, who is visiting here, was the only out of town guest.

The coming marriage of Miss Weaver to Mr. McClellan is a matter of much interest, both having a large number of friends and wide family connection throughout the county. Miss Weaver is the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Volcha Weaver, of South Detroit street, and received her education in Xenia schools and at Mary Baldwin Seminary, Staunton, W. Va.

Mr. McClellan who is the second son of Dr. and Mrs. Ben R. McClellan, recently received his discharge from the army, after serving in the medical corps at the base hospital at Fox Hill, L. I. He graduated from Staunton Military Academy, Staunton, W. Va., and also from Eastman Business College. Since leaving school he has taken up X-Ray work and is specializing in that line, now having charge of the X-Ray department at the McClellan Hospital.

Because of the ill-health of Miss Weaver's mother, the wedding will be very simple.

C C C CENTENARY CELEBRATION COLUMBUS

(OHIO)

Remember this great Centenary Celebration closes its gates on SUNDAY, JULY 13th.

Described by William C. Freeman, Associated with Paul Block, Inc., New York, Chicago, Detroit, Boston.

The Centenary Celebration Columbus, is open on Sundays—except there is no charge for admission and none of the buildings in which the special exhibits are stored are open to the public.

Yet Sunday is a wonderful day to visit the Exposition.

I spent Sunday afternoon, June 29, in the Coliseum, State Fair Grounds, which seats, as you know, 7,500 people—and it was one of the richest experiences of my life.

I am old enough to go back to the days when, as a young lad, I heard Dwight L. Moody, the evangelist, and Ira Sankey, the sweet singer, hold forth in Madison Square Garden, New York.

I remember very well the great crowds that attended these meetings and I was tremendously impressed with the great chorus of voices that joined Mr. Sankey in singing.

To my young mind everything thing seemed to be very wonderful. An impression was left on my mind that has never been erased from memory.

But the meeting in the Coliseum at Columbus, under the auspices of the Centenary Celebration, gave me two hours of the greatest inspiration I ever experienced in my whole life.

The playing of that wonderful orchestra—the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra of 75 pieces—thrilled everybody. Accompanied as it was, by the music from the great pipe organ installed by the Centenary management for this occasion, at a cost of $50,000—also accompanied by the singing of the great audience which filled the Coliseum to capacity—the occasion was most inspiring and stirring.

I heard two wonderful talks by two remarkable men—one of them delivered by Rev. John A. Rice, D. D., Sumner, S. Carolina and the other by Rev. Lynn Harold Hough, D. D., President of the Northwestern University. The address of Dr. Hough was the most remarkable and most intellectual interpretation of the Bible I ever heard.

Sunday, June 29, had been set apart as Bible day.

There was a big crowd in attendance at the morning service—a larger crowd at the afternoon service and still a larger crowd at the evening service.

But there were services of an impromptu nature held in all parts of the State Fair Grounds where the Centenary Exposition is held—and they had a wonderful effect on the great crowds that could not be accommodated with seats in the Coliseum.

I never heard such sympathetic, powerful and wonderful singing as I heard on this occasion.

I was brought up a Presbyterian, and in my young days I recall that there was not the best of feeling existing between the people of the Presbyterian and Methodist faiths. But what a change has taken place in recent years! What unity exists now among peoples of all faiths! Why not? Why should people quarrel about the routes they take to heaven? Aren't they all traveling the same way. Haven't they the same purpose in view?

At any rate I found my Presbyterian faith in harmony on this occasion with the Methodist faith—and I said to myself every Presbyterian, every Methodist, every Congregationalist, every Lutheran and everybody of every other faith should attend this Centenary Celebration.

Don't fail to attend the Centenary services next Sunday.

Don't fail to attend this remarkably interesting exposition on any of the seven days of the week, for it is very much worth while.

People living in the City of Columbus—250,000 of them I understand—have a greater advantage than you who live many miles away from Columbus.

The home town people of Columbus—EVERYONE OF THEM—should attend this Centenary Celebration not once but many times, because never before in their lives have they had brought to their doors anything so inspiring or instructive as this.

Remember that admission for all day is only 25c, which permits you to see everything without extra charge—and in the evening, the only additional charge is 50c, if you wish to see the great pageant staged in the Coliseum.

BIJOU

"Revelation" a seven-act Metro Special production de Luxe, featuring the wonderful Nazimova, will be shown at the Bijou Theater Wednesday, marking the return of Metro pictures to the program of this popular theater.

No one but Nazimova could depict the wonderful story that is told in this splendid Metro production. It deals with the tradition existing around an old monastery of the "sacred rose bush" and the "Madonna of the Rose Bush." The romance is wonderfully sweet and refreshing and the plot delightful in its originality. Charles Bryant plays opposite Nazimova and Frank Currier, S'n De Conde, and John Martin also have good parts in the production.

ORPHIUM

It is quite a complicated romance that Taylor Holmes is called upon to unwind in the latest Triangle presentation "A Regular Fellow" which appears at the Orphium Theater Wednesday.

Holmes has an excellent part to portray and the plot is to his liking. He jumps from riches to poverty and from beautiful surroundings to jail so quickly that there is never a lagging moment. He is supported by Millie Fisher, Edna Phillips Holmes, Frank Leigh, Aileen Manning and others.

NEW WHEAT IS BEING RECEIVED AT LOCAL MARKET

New wheat being received at Xenia elevators is not up to standard. The quality is poor, and the quantity has fallen about 10 bushels to the acre below the average yield expected. About 20 bushels to the acre is the average yield.

Late storms which broke down the wheat when it was nearing maturity had something to do with the poor quality and quantity. In comparison with the grain yield there is an excess quantity of straw, this being enough in most cases, for a yield of 40 bushels to the acre.

The government is endeavoring to encourage farmers to hold their wheat until later, and local elevator men are also trying to impress this upon them. The government price of $2.26 for No. 1 wheat is guaranteed until May 31, 1920, and there is no necessity for rushing the grain to the mill now in the fear that the price will not continue. The elevator man pays $2.26 f. o. b., Chicago, less freight and brokerage for No. 1 wheat. The price for No. 2 wheat is three cents less, and for No. 3 wheat four cents less.

Cars are scarce, and the elevators will find it impossible to ship large quantities of grain, hence the necessity for the wheat being held.

PORT WILLIAM

The most of our people spent the Fourth at Jamestown and Blanchester. They report a splendid time.

Mayor Sanderson has moved—into the H. R. Stephens property on Sycamore street.

Supt. C. O. Temple is attending school at Wilmington College. He reports a splendid school this summer, with an increased attendance.

J. A. Conklin has newly painted his buildings on Main street.

Our groceries report large sales in June and the prospects fine for the summer trade.

James Thomas is adding a small grocery line to his meat store.

Our threshers are all busy at work pushing the large crop of wheat through for our farmers. There are several machines near Port William, and the threshing season will be short.

J. C. Ellis, agent for the Hous-tonia Creamery Co., also the post master, is getting a nice trade with the creamery.

Golder Borton, having a little extra time at Beam's mill, is prepared to mend shoes and is well equipped with a new Singer machine, also a fine pegging machine.

Raymond Plummer is helping the threshers.

J. A. Stephens and Roy G. Bernard are selling a great many Oldsmobiles this season, and they have several other people who wish them but the factory can not furnish them for a short time.

F. L. Earley and Sons have just opened one of the most up-to-date restaurants that can be found anywhere. They have secured a fine soda fountain and are prepared to serve most any kind of eats, as well as soft drinks. The people of the little village and community are to be congratulated upon having people take interest enough to serve them in this way.

We are glad to note that our section hands are putting things in good shape on the D. T. and I. Several more hands are needed, so Foreman Claybaugh informs us.

The Dayton Power and Light Co. is using a number of our laborers, and they speak very highly of their work.

Steven Powers of Xenia has been out looking after his splendid wheat crop.

We are informed that Prof. M. J. Ellis will move into his house on

Mr. Ellis has been a splendid school man and with the same amount of enthusiasm in the insurance business, he will be a splendid man, for he has a large acquaintance about the two counties. He will have an office in Wilmington, the county seat. Mr. Ellis has been doing work of this kind for quite a while, but now he will devote his entire time to the auto insurance.

AUSTRIA TO PAY $300,000,000

Paris, July 8.—Austria must pay $300,000,000 in gold, the reparational clauses, now completed, provide according to L'Intransigeant.

Czecho-Slovakia, by the treaty with Austria, is required to meet one half of this total and the Polish and Jugoslavians who belonged to the former Hapsburg empire also will have to pay certain percentage of the total, it is learned.

The Allied and Associated Powers, it is stated will advance money to Austria to enable her to exploit her national railroads and the former Imperial railroads and the former Imperial properties for the benefit of her creditors.

Don't burn good fuel
in a poor stove

It's a useless waste of good fuel and a needless extravagance to try to burn it in a poor stove. It is absolutely wrong to expect good food to supply energy, vitality, health and happiness if your stomach won't absorb and assimilate it. If you cannot eat with enjoyment, if your food does you no good, if food distresses rather than benefits, then you have indigestion or

PEPSINCO.

EX-PUPIL OF HOME BEATEN ALMOST TO DEATH BY HUSBAND

Columbus, O., July 8.—"I guess I have killed her. Take care of the little girl and tell my folks at Newark."

With this statement to Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Thompson, neighbors, Alfred J. Yerian, 25, returned to his home in this city and shot himself above the right ear. A short time before he had beaten his wife, Ethel, aged 23, into insensibility. It was his wife he thought he had killed after a family brawl.

Both of Mrs. Yerian's eyes were closed and she was lacerated about the head and face so that 36 stitches were necessary to close the wounds. She will recover. Yerian was a brakeman on the Pennsylvania and is said to have been jealous of his wife, who had just returned from Xenia, where she attended the reunion of the former students of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' home.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Yerian and their little daughter, were visitors at the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home, during the ex-pupils' reunion which closed last Thursday, according to Mrs. J. P. Elton, chief matron at the institution, who knew Mrs. Yerian both as a pupil and ex-pupil, and was shocked when she learned through this paper of the tragedy.

The Yerian family registered together as reunion visitors. Mr. Yerian was not an ex-pupil and Mrs. Elton said she heard that he had returned to Columbus after the first day of the annual gathering, his wife and little daughter remaining until the reunion closed. So far as was noticeable, there was nothing in their attitude toward each other at the Home, and nothing had occurred while they were there to foreshadow the tragedy at their home in Columbus.

Mrs. Yerian's maiden name was Ethel Miller, and she was reared in the Home, where her 15-year-old sister, Elva, is now a pupil. Elva was permitted to go to the Yerian home on a vacation, and is now there. As is their custom, Supt. and Mrs. Elton made inquiries through the juvenile court in Columbus regarding the Yerian home, before permitting the Miller child to go there. The report regarding the home was favorable, and the girl was allowed to go there to spend her vacation.

Mrs. Yerian was discharged from the Home only a few years ago, and was married soon afterward.

HOMAGE PAID TO CAPTAIN'S MEMORY

London, July 8.—England today paid homage to the memory of Captain Fryatt, the British skipper who was put to death by the Germans in Belgium for trying to ram a U-boat with his unarmed merchant ship.

Scenes recalling the funeral of Miss Edith Cavell, heroic English nurse, were enacted just before noon, when Captain Fryatt's body arrived at the Charing Cross station and was borne along the Thames embankment to St. Paul's church where solemn services were conducted in the presence of a vast throng. The roadways leading to the church were lined with bare headed crowds.

After the ceremonies the remains were taken to Fryatt's old home in Dover court.

BUSHNELL DECIDES TO PAY HIS FINE

Not caring to carry the matter further, Attorneys for John Bushnell, Springfield man, whose chauffeur was charged with speeding in this city last week, dropped the case and paid the fine of $12.40 imposed for speeding.

When stopped by Speed Officer Stethem, the chauffeur driving the Bushnell car refused at first to come to headquarters with the officer, and had the case been carried further it is likely that a charge of resisting an officer would have been added to the speeding charge, and the chauffeur would have been deprived of his license.

Transmigration of Souls.

A fresh young man was presenting an old gentleman, who evidently felt bored, to give him an illustration of the transmigration of souls, showing how a person's identity might be maintained. At last the old gentleman replied: "Supposing you should die, your soul might appear in a canary bird; when the canary bird died it might appear in a lion or a tiger; again, it might appear in a jackass—and I might stroke its ears and say, 'My dear fellow, you have not changed a bit!'"—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Rubber "Biscuits."

In southern India a factory at which high-grade rubber is made resembles a dairy, the milkylike appearance of the latex adding to this illusion, as well as the precautions taken to insure absolute cleanliness. One of two methods of manufacture is generally adopted. If the estate is young and only a few trees are being tapped, the rubber is made in the form of biscuits or sheets. The biscuits are placed on racks in a warm room or an artificial dryer and allowed to remain there until dry. The finished biscuits are pale amber colored and transparent, and for this reason are popular on the market, for their purity and freedom from dirt can be judged by holding them to the light and looking through them.

EAST END NEWS

Mrs. Cudellis Hanes is confined to her bed by reason of illness.

Prof. and Mrs. S. P. Massie, of Argenta, Arkansas, announce the birth of twin boys, William E. and William Proctor. They were born July 3rd, and weighed respectively 6.3-4 and 7.1-2 lbs. Prof. Massie is a former Xenian and the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Massie, of Mulberry street, this city. He is a teacher in Shorter College at Little Rock, Ark.

A beautiful morning wedding took place at the residence of Rev. P. A. Nichols Monday morning at ten o'clock, when Mr. Ethbert Abrams, of Nitro, W. Va., was united in marriage to Mrs. Ethel Mitchell McGee, of Wilberforce. The ring ceremony was used and Bishop B. F. Lee officiated, assisted by Dr. Nichols. Only the families of the contracting parties were present. The happy couple left on the 11:19 a. m. train for Columbus. They will reside in Nitro, W. Va.

Mrs. Priscilla Baker has returned from a three weeks' visit with her son and his family in Dayton. She is feeling very much improved in health.

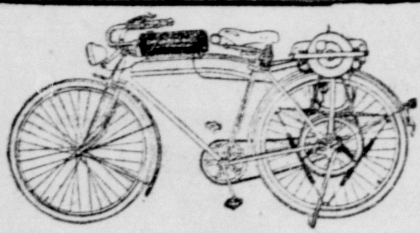

The spirit of improvement seems to be more widespread and noticeable in the East End this summer than for many years before. A number of persons have raised and remodeled their houses, several have built handsome cement porches, and others have painted and otherwise beautified their homes. Improvement is contagious and the contagion spreads rapidly. The city is helping along the good work some, by smoothing up and grading East Church street. This street will be in good condition when finished with a heavy coating of gravel.

Mr. Elijah Harris, of Springfield, Ohio, was called to Xenia Monday evening, on account of the serious illness of his daughter, Mrs. Cudellis Hanes.

Mrs. R. J. Watkins and daughter, Mrs. Clara Gaines, are attending the Centenary for a few days. They went to Columbus Sunday.

A number of Xenians attended the African Day program at the Centenary Monday. Among them were Revs. Purnell, Becton, Mr. R. E. Holmes and Misses May Summers and Virgie Thomas. The first three motored through with Rev. Harris, a visiting minister from Texas.

PROMINENT FARMER IS LAID TO REST

Funeral services for Levi M. Ashbaugh, prominent farmer of the Xenia and Fairfield pike, were held at Union church, Byron, Monday afternoon, with the Rev. Jerome Schulz of Fairfield in charge. Interment was made in Bryon cemetery.

Mr. Ashbaugh who was 78 years of age, died at midnight last Friday, of kidney and heart trouble. He is survived by a family of nine children, five sons and four daughters.

Quick Breathing an Anaesthetic.
United States scientists who have been conducting experiments in the art of breathing claim to have demonstrated that rapid breathing of pure air acts as an anaesthetic and renders a person immune to pain as long as it is maintained. Of course, after the rapid inhalations cease the pain will be felt. By a little training, it is said, a person may induce sound sleep by deep and rapid breathing for a few minutes.

RUNAWAY MACHINE WRECKS A BARN

Inability to distinguish between the break and the accelerator resulted in carpenters going to work repairing the barn owned by C. W. Ryan, off of Whiteman street Tuesday morning.

Monday night, Walter Dimmitt, sent his son to the barn, which he rented from Mr. Ryan, to bring out his machine. The boy thought he had his foot on the break when he was pressing the accelerator. The big barn doors were shut but neither they, nor a buggy which was in the path of the runaway machine, could stop the automobile from pursuing its course out into the alley.

Once in the air the machine was brought to a stop. The top was torn off but it was not otherwise seriously damaged. The boy was unhurt. But, Oh, you barn!

New Hair Growth After BALDNESS

HAIR GROWN ON MR. BRITAIN'S BALD HEAD BY INDIANS' MYSTERIOUS HAIR GROWER

My head at the top and back was absolutely bald. The scalp was shiny. An expert said that as he thought the hair roots were extinct, and there was no hope of my ever having a new hair growth. Yet now, at an age over 66, I have a luxuriant growth of soft, strong, lustrous hair! No trace of baldness. The pictures shown here are from my photographs.

Indians' Secret of Hair Growth

At a time when I had become discouraged at trying various hair lotions, tonics, specialists' treatments, etc., I came across, in my travels, a Cherokee Indian "medicine man" who had an elixir that he asserted would grow my hair. Although I had but little faith, I gave it a trial. From recent photo. To my amazement a light fuzz soon appeared. It developed, day by day, into a healthy growth, and ere long my hair was as prolific as in my youthful days.

That I was astonished and happy is expressing my state of mind mildly. Obviously, the hair roots had not been dead, but were dormant in the scalp, awaiting the fertilizing potency of the mysterious pomade. I negotiated for and came into possession of the principle for preparing this mysterious elixir, now called Kotalko, and later had the recipe put into practical form by a chemist.

That my own hair growth was permanent has been amply proved. Many men and women, also children, have reported satisfactory results from Kotalko.

How YOU May Grow YOUR Hair

My honest belief is that hair roots rarely die even when the hair falls out through dandruff, fever, excessive dryness or other disorders. I have been told by experts that often when hair falls out the roots become imbedded within the scalp, covered by hard skin, so that they remain for a time like bulbs or seeds in a bottle which will grow when fertilized. Shampoos (which contain alkalis) and hair lotions which contain alcohol are enemies to the hair, as they dry it, making it brittle. Kotalko contains those elements of nature which give new vitality to the scalp and hair.

PROVE FOR YOURSELF

Get a box of the genuine Kotalko at a reliable druggist's $300.00 GUARANTEE with each box. A small testing box of Kotalko (with testimonials, etc.) may be obtained by sending ten cents, silver or stamps, to my address below.
